Jet Fighters Tangle Anew Near Formosa

Nationalists Claim 5 Red Planes Downed At Cost of Only 1

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Jet fighters of the Chinese Nationalists and Communists battled over the Formosa Strait today. The Nationalists said five Red planes were downed at a cost of one of theirs.

The Nationalist air force said machine-gun fire from its F86 Sabre Jets shot down four MIG-17s. A Sabre Jet collided with a fifth MIG, sending both crashing into the ocean and killing the Nationalist pilot, a spokesman said.

Peiping radio claimed Communist planes shot down two Nationalist Sabre Jets and damaged a third. It said one Nationalist pilot "has been captured alive." Red losses were not mentioned.

The Nationalists now claim they have shot down 34 MIGs and damaged or possibly destroyed 11 more since the Communists began bombarding the Quemoy Islands Aug. 23. In that period the Nationalists say they have lost only the plane in today's collision.

The Defense Ministry said six Sabre Jets were patrolling southeast of Matsu, a Nationalist offshore island 150 miles north of Quemoy, when 20 MIGs jumped them. The Sabre Jets were in the area because MIGs strafed tiny Tungyin Island in the Matsu group Thursday, a spokesman said.

It was the largest aerial battle since 32 Sabre Jets clashed Sept. 24 with more than 100 MIGs. The Nationalists claimed 14 MIGs shot down in that engagement.

News of the battle climaxed the observance on Formosa of the 47th anniversary of the revolution which overthrew the Manchu Dynasty and led to establishment of the Chinese Republic. Falling on the 10th day of the month, it is known as the "Double 10th" holiday.

President Chiang Kai-shek said in his annual address that the Nationalists had won the first round of the battle of Quemoy. He predicted they would win the "second round" and eventually would recover the mainland from the Chinese Communists.

The cease-fire around the Quemoy continued into its fifth day, and the Nationalists moved more supplies into the offshore islands. Both Nationalist and Communist gunners stood ready on either side of the narrow stretch of coastal water separating them but neither fired.

There was still no clear indication whether the Communists intended to renew shelling of the Quemoy when their self-imposed cease-fire ends at midnight Sunday.

Big Jupiter Rocket Blown Up in Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A powerful Jupiter rocket was blown apart in a blazing display of missile fireworks over Cape Canaveral Thursday night.

It was the third ballistic weapon in a row to explode shortly after liftoff in the past month.

The Jupiter—the usually reliable 1,500-mile missile which also will provide the big punch for the Army's moon rocket—was deliberately destroyed after it swerved violently out of control several thousand feet high.

One huge chunk crashed back on the cape with a roar; other debris splashed into the ocean nearby. No one was injured and there was no property damage reported.

Salvage crews searched for broken pieces of the 60-foot rocket to help Army missilemen determine the trouble.

The Jupiter thundered aloft from billows of white flame and smoke, but appeared to sway slightly as it climbed toward space. After 32 seconds it was blown up by the range safety officer.

Air Force OKs New Missile

'White Lance' Weapon To Have Nuclear Tip

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force plans to arm its supersonic fighter bombers with a powerful new air-to-surface missile, the White Lance.

Reports say the missile would be nuclear tipped.

The weapon, an improved version of the Navy Bullpup, will be manufactured by the Martin Co. Missile Division here.

The Air Force has not yet formally announced the name. However, it is no longer a secret within the Tactical Air Command. A section of the Martin plant already has become known as the White Lance Department.

The new super Bullpup was designed to multiply the destructive capability of the North American F100 and Republic F105 fighters.

It would be used in attacks on grounded aircraft, ships, bridges and on ground support and assignments requiring a high degree of accuracy.

It would fill a gap in Air Force weapons, providing greater accuracy than is possible with conventional bombs and offering greater firepower than is available with rockets such as the Sidewinder. The Sidewinder is designed to shoot down attacking aircraft and is not particularly effective against ground targets.

The Air Force reportedly has not yet made a decision as to the type of improved guidance to be ordered.

Known to be under consideration is a television guidance system that would enable the pilot to control the missile even beyond visual range. Some of the Air Force leaders argue that such a system would be unnecessarily costly and complex.

Body of Pope Returned to Rome

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The body of Pope Pius XII, clad in funeral robes, was brought tonight to St. Peter's Basilica where it will be placed to rest Sunday or Monday.

The slow, sad procession carried the body from the Basilica of St. John Lateran, the Pope's see as bishop of Rome, where an absolution service was held.

The funeral cortege, which started from the pontiff's Castel Gandolfo Summer Palace where he died early Thursday arrived at the basilica at 3:25 p.m.

Hundreds of thousands of people were packed in the basilica and in the streets and piazza adjoining it. Throughout Italy millions more listened to or watched the solemn program on radio and television.

Other thousands had lined the 18-mile route, part of it along the Appian Way, as the procession passed by.

From the Basilica of St. John Lateran, after a ceremony of absolution, the funeral procession led to Vatican City, the tiny state of which he had been supreme ruler for 19 years. He left it on July 27 to go to his summer residence.

The City of Rome, its walls posted with funeral notices and festooned with half-staffed Italian and Vatican flags, was hushed, almost oppressively so. Hundreds of thousands jammed the streets of the city.

The Pope's body was clad in his most formal episcopal robes. Over a white silk cassock with a long train was drawn a long white alb, a full-length vestment reaching to the feet. Over the alb was a red and gold dalmatic, an outer vestment, and a red chasuble or sleeveless cloak. About his neck was the pallium, about his hands were of lambs wool.

6 States Due To Ballot on Right-to-Work

Issue Is So Red Hot, Politicians Rate It Above All Others

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big question to be decided in the Nov. 4 elections is whether right-to-work laws are to be enacted in six more states.

The issue is a red hot one. At times it has overshadowed in interest the congressional races. Politicians are far more concerned with it than with any of the 270 constitutional amendments and referenda being voted on in 39 states.

Eighteen states, mostly in the South and West, have such laws. They provide that membership of non-membership in a labor union shall not be a condition of employment or retention of a job.

The six states voting on the question—which has divided members of both parties are California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Ohio and Washington. If approved by the voters, the proposals would bar employers and labor unions in those states from negotiating arrangements providing for compulsory union membership of workers.

Spokesmen for organized labor, vigorously opposed to the right-to-work laws, say they are concerned about their chances of defeating the propositions mainly in Idaho and Ohio.

Political observers also believe right-to-work advocates may have an edge in Kansas.

The issue has been particularly prominent in California. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, Republican candidate for the Senate, has some labor support because of his opposition to the right-to-work amendment. Sen. William F. Knowland, Republican candidate for governor, (Please Turn to Page Two)

News Briefs

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A new approach to the formidable problem of disposing of radioactive wastes has been started at the Atomic Energy Commission's eastern Idaho testing station west of here.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain are sticking to their idea that special ambassadors—not their foreign ministers—should seek to negotiate an agreement banning nuclear weapons tests.

The two governments have drafted a note to Moscow turning down a Soviet proposal that foreign ministers of the three powers meet at Geneva Oct. 31 for that purpose.

Snuggles Time, Weatherman Says

A cold front which moved across Fayette County from the northwest shortly before noon Friday brought the strong possibility of frost along with its bright blue skies.

Tonight's temperatures are expected to be in the low 30s, with a chance of a freeze in exposed areas.

The mercury will reach little higher than the 50s Saturday and Sunday, although fair skies will prevail. Friday morning's low here was 60. The official rain gauge recorded .22 inch of precipitation during the last 24 hours.

U.S. Unemployment Takes Sharp Drop!

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment dropped by 588,000 in September, marking what the government called a significant improvement in the job situation.

The joint monthly report of the Commerce and Labor Departments said unemployment declined from 4,699,000 in August to 4,111,000 in September.

This was about twice the usual seasonal decline between August and September.

Employment also dropped, falling from 65,367,000 to 64,629,000 or a decline of 738,000. This is usual as students go back to school at this time of year.

About one million students quit summer jobs to return to classes this year.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell said:

"A sharp pickup among adult men in nonfarm activities was chiefly responsible for reducing the unemployed total to its lowest level for the year thus far. Hiring was especially brisk in automobile plants and steel mills, and among producers of home appliances. In addition, there was the usual expansion in school staffs."

An early autumn lull in farm activity, as well as the customary September withdrawal of students from the labor market, contributed toward the decline in employment.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment fell to 7.2 per cent in September from 7.6 per cent in August.

A year ago in September, when unemployment was 2,552,000 or 1,559,000 lower than September this year, the unemployed ratio was 4.5 per cent.

Nixon Urges Ohio Republicans To Display 'Truman Backbone'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What the Republican party needs to win in November is backbone, says Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The vice president urged his fellow Republicans Thursday to display "some of the same backbone" Harry Truman did in winning the 1948 election in the face of adverse forecasts.

"Let us resolve from this day forward," Nixon told an enthusiastic state GOP convention, "that we Republicans are not going to be defensive, apologetic or mealy-mouthed in telling voters of this country about the magnificent record of the past and the great promise of the future of the sound progressive policies of our Republican administration in Washington are continued."

"The Republican Party goes to the country this year with a six-year record of accomplishments that is the best in history," Nixon asserted.

Answering Democratic criticism of the administration's foreign policy, he said:

"I realize they (the Democrats) say our firm position against communist aggression in the Formosa Straits runs the risk of war."

"Our reply is that despite all the criticism they have directed at our policies in the past six years, this administration has been able to accomplish an objective which they were never able to produce in the 20 years they were in Washington."

"We have peace without surrender and prosperity based on peace and not on war or as a result of a war."

Turning to the domestic scene Nixon said the election of more Democrats to Congress would mean more taxes and a cheaper dollar. He added:

"You can kiss goodbye any chance for effective labor legislation if you increase the number of those Democratic congressmen and senators who will owe their election to contributions and support of the very labor politicians they are supposed to control."

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who shared the rostrum with Nixon and U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, also hit the theme of labor cooperation.

Lunar Probe Hinted Due Before Dawn

2 1/2-Day Trip Needed For U.S. Satellite To Reach Destination

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Columbus Day, the 466th anniversary of the discovery of America, may find American scientists probing toward a new world in space.

Although there has been no official announcement, the Air Force reportedly is ready to make another try at hurling an unmanned space satellite to the vicinity of the moon—possibly before dawn Saturday.

Thus, if all goes well, man's first device to explore the moon area would be well on its way on Columbus Day, Sunday.

This is so because a rocket flight to the moon—some 221,000 miles away at this particular time—would take a little over 2 1/2 days.

The first moon probe attempt by the Air Force failed Aug. 17. The rocket exploded after 77 seconds of flight.

The four days starting Saturday are the best in October for trying a moon shot. During this period the moon is closest to the earth. The shot will be fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

There is no plan actually to strike the moon with the 85-pound lunar probe mounted in the nose of an 88-foot, three-stage rocket.

Included in the payload are 25 pounds of instruments—notably a television-type scanning device designed to get rough pictures of the side of the moon never before seen from the earth. Other instruments are intended for counting meteorites and for determining whether the moon has a magnetic field. And the probe is equipped with radio transmitters for sending information back to earth.

Lunar probe rocketeers have cautioned that complete success would hinge on perfect functioning of some 300,000 parts of the payload and its launching rocket.

The rocket would have to reach speeds up to 24,000 miles an hour to escape the earth's gravitational pull. In this connection, the rocketeers say the venture would be considered a partial success if the rocket was able to break away from the earth's gravity.

19 Air Force Persons Die In Plane Crash

PAYETTE, Idaho (AP)—An Air Force transport, apparently trying a wheels-down emergency landing crashed and burned with 19 servicemen aboard Thursday night. All were killed.

A team of Air Force investigators began a probe today amid speculation the twin-engine C123 may have run into a flock of geese.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to be gliding in for a landing just before it smashed nose first into a brush-covered hillside on a ranch near this southwest Idaho community.

"There were three lights blinking and the wheels were down," said irrigation worker Norman Meadows. "It looked like he was going to try and make a landing."

Officials from Idaho's Mountain Home Air Force Base said the 19 aboard were all Air Force personnel. They said the plane was en route to McChord Field, Tacoma, Wash., from its home Pope Air Force Base, N.C.

Identity of the victims was withheld.

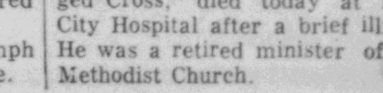

Sheriff Ray Stephens said some witnesses told him they saw a flock of geese in the area at the time of the crash.

Fire from the wreckage burned some five acres of brush.

A tenant on the Nelson ranch, Claude Smith, said his wife shouted as he was doing his evening milking that a plane had crashed.

"We went right over there but couldn't get up close enough to give any help," he said. "We found a piece of torn newspaper. It was dated today, from Oklahoma City."

Hymn Composer Dies
REED CITY, Mich. (AP)—Rev. George Bennard, 85, composer of the gospel hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," died today at Reed City Hospital after a brief illness. He was a retired minister of the Methodist Church.

Clinton School Chides U. S. Aid Offer

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—An Anderson County School Board member has accused White House officials of proffering pennies instead of dollars to help the board repair dynamited Clinton High School.

R. G. Crossno urged another trip to Washington, this time to see no one less than President Eisenhower. His assistants, he said, gave county officials a "run-around, heave-ho, pass-the-buck."

The criticism of federal attitudes typified the board's stand since the school was integrated under federal court orders in 1956: The board will obey the law, but the federal government must accept the responsibility for what happens.

Crossno recommended to fellow board members at an emergency session Thursday night that they return to Washington and talk with the President.

Crossno led a delegation of four county officials to Washington Wednesday. They conferred with presidential aides and came away with the promise of limited federal aid for the restoration of the building. The promise came from U. S. Education Commissioner Lawrence Derthick.

Crossno said, "They are offering us pennies. What we need is dollars. What we can expect from their proposals is chicken feed. It looks like we'll need at least $300,000."

Three pre-dawn dynamite blasts caused that much damage Sunday to the racially integrated school.

Board Member O. C. Mayes said: "Integration of our schools by court order has caused the building to be blown up, and it is the responsibility of the federal government."

Disorderly Cases Aired in Court

Two cases continued from September were heard in Municipal Court Friday.

Mrs. Ruth Powell Harris, 45, of 1101 Paint St., was found guilty on a disorderly conduct charge brought by Mrs. Betty Powell, 1108 E. Paint St. Mrs. Powell said Mrs. Harris used profane language in the presence of a child on Sept. 25. The defendant entered a plea of not guilty. A fine of $10 was suspended.

Orville Mickle, Route 1, Bloomington, charged that Harold R. Laymon, 146 Fairview Ave. threatened him with abusive language at the Fairground on Sept. 19. Laymon denied the accusations.

Witnesses were still being called at noon.

Three Are Treated After Accidents

Accidents in a factory, in a home and at play sent three to Memorial Hospital Thursday for emergency treatment. All were released.

Gordon Reed, Jamestown, suffered an injury to his left foot when a truck ran over it at the Morton Showcase Co. plant here.

Mrs. Robert Lisk, 815 Dayton Ave., received lacerations of the scalp after she had hit her head in a home accident.

Rickie Lee Callender, 2 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Callender, Dennis Rd., suffered a fractured arm when he fell from a teeter-totter.

Trucker Injured Near Mt. Sterling

A driver, who was pinned under his truck in an accident on Route 56 east of Mt. Sterling at 9:05 a. m. Friday, was reported in "good condition" at Memorial Hospital at noon.

The victim Carl J. Judleson, 40, Route 1, Williamsport, suffered lacerations of the head, face and a fractured rib and knee.

Pickaway County officers said a tractor-trailer driven east by Billy Joe Lytle, 25, Zanesville, jackknifed on a wet curve and hit Judleson's truck, which overturned. With the help of another truck driver and a chain Judleson was extricated from the wreckage.

Judleson told Fayette County Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays that when he approached the curve he saw the tractor-trailer coming and pulled over to the extreme right side of the road. That was all he said he remembered.

Lytle was cited into Circleville Municipal Court for driving left of center. Deputies said the Judleson truck was a total loss. Lytle's vehicle was heavily damaged.

Man Fined $10 For Passing Bus

Charles McKnight, 714 Eastern Ave., pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Friday to a charge of passing a school which was loading passengers.

He was fined $10 and costs on the charge filed by Mander Boggs, Jamestown Rd., a driver of a bus in Union Township. The offense occurred Monday.

Alton Gerald Parsons, 52, Dunbar, W. Va., forfeited $50 bond on a charge of driving recklessly on Dayton Ave.

Wilbur Marquis, 40, Steubenville, forfeited $30 bond on a speeding charge.

Jersey Official Feels Long Run of Bad Luck

BRIDGETON, N.J. (AP)—Bad luck is dogging Cumberland County Freeholder Max April.

His car turned over in August, and he was thrown out, suffering serious bruises.

Last month, the April Brothers orchard in Millville had a fire with damage running to $150,000.

Thursday night, April hobbled into the Board of Freeholders' meeting on crutches. He explained he fell off a platform.

134 Pints of Blood Donated At Mobile Unit Here Thursday

Although members of the Graduate Sorority, which sponsored the bloodmobile here Thursday, signed up 165 men and women with appointments to donate blood, only 134 pints were collected.

This was 16 pints less than the county's quota of 150 pints for this call of the Red Cross mobile unit.

In addition to the 165 recruited by the sorority and given appointments, 25 others came without appointments. But all told, only 153 showed up at the bloodmobile, which was at the First Presbyterian Church from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. to give blood. Of these 19 were rejected by the examining physicians, leaving only 134 actual donors, 26 of whom gave blood for the first time.

Harold Hise, Joseph Peters, Kenneth Dowler, Harold Foster, Forest Stephenson and Frank Terrell joined the gallon club; Richard Andrews the two-gallon club and Ward Morris the three-gallon club. Physicians who made the examinations of the volunteers before they gave blood were Dr. James E. Rose, Dr. Robert Woodmansee, Dr. Marvin Rossmann, Dr. Hugh Payton, Dr. J. H. Persinger and Dr. Robert Anderson.

Registered nurses who assisted them were Mrs. Gayle Rossmann, Mrs. Edna Swaim, Mrs. Ann Dorn, Miss Florence Purcell, Miss Lucy R. and Miss Florence Weeks, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Corrine Sperry and Miss Ruth Mowery. The practical nurses were Mrs.

Lillie Householder, Mrs. Lillian Ervin, Mrs. Ludene Herman and Mrs. Vivian Underwood.

In the canteen, to serve lunches to donors after they had given blood were Mrs. Dorothy Davis, Mrs. Ruth Parrett, Mrs. Margaret Bryant, Mrs. Pearl Jordan, Mrs. Dora Bonnell, Mrs. Belle Funk, Mrs. Joy Seblom, Mrs. Edythe Miller, Mrs. Anna Todhunter, Mrs. Margaret Meriweather, Mrs. Anna Lois Clark, Mrs. Margaret Plymale, Mrs. Dora Grimm, Mrs. Ivah Dill and Mrs. Maggie Soale.

Miss Helen Slavens, Mrs. Lottie Gregg and Mrs. Eunice Coe drove the cars to take donors to the bloodmobile.

Clerical duties were handled by Mrs. Betty Korn, Mrs. Dorothy Hankins, Mrs. Mable Ellis, Mrs. Janet Loudner, Mrs. Donna Jean Coffman, Mrs. Virginia Vollte, Mrs. Peggy Perrill, Mrs. Florence Perrill and Mrs. Margaret Kratz.

Contributions to the canteen were made by Pennington Bakery, Med-O-Pure Dairy, City Ice and Fuel Co., Central Grocery Co., Albers Super-Market, Wesley Wed Class of Grace Church and Victoria Class of First Baptist Church.

City employees set up the equipment brought by the mobile unit in the church.

All told, 31 volunteer helpers put in 154 hours at the bloodmobile. Those who gave blood were:

Coffman Stair Co. — Ward F. Morris, Bill Fout, Norman Kimball, Leroy Carter, Charles Daugherty, James L. Stapleton, Maxie LeVander, Richard Osborne, Orlando Patterson, Shirley Wallace, Milbourne L. Flee and Willis Coffman.

Armo — Harold Hazard, William H. Slavens, Charles Van Dyke, Benjamin R. Gifford, Benjamin J. Kinnison, Kenneth O. Leath and Frank Terrell.

Ohio Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill, seeking a second term, came out last week for a right-to-work amendment. His Democratic opponent, Michael V. DiSalle, previously had taken an opposite position.

In Kansas, Democratic Gov. George Docking, running for a second term, is opposed to the right-to-work amendment, but his party's platform opposes it only indirectly.

Publisher Clyde Reed Jr., Republican gubernatorial candidate, has written editorials opposing such laws, but has taken no position in the campaign. Reed and his party platform say the GOP will be guided by the mandate of the voters and that the question is not a campaign issue.

President Eisenhower has adopted a neutral attitude on the issue. He told a news conference Oct. 1 it is a matter for each state to decide. Shortly before that C. O. P. National Chairman Meade Alcorn said he felt advocating such legislation was poor politics, tending to alienate workers.

On the Democratic side, many southerners espouse right-to-work legislation, but the northern wing of the party generally opposes the idea.

The Taft-Hartley Law permits the union shop except in states which outlaw it. Under the union shop, a worker need not be a member to get a job in a plant, but must join the union concerned within a certain period.

Unions claim a union shop is necessary to prevent non-members from getting union benefits without paying dues as their share of the cost. Right-to-work advocates contend compulsory union membership is immoral, infringes on individuals' rights and tends to build up union dictators.

The 18 states with right-to-work laws are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia.

13 Pickers Arrested At Ohio Auto Plant

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today arrested 13 men for allegedly violating a judge's order against picketing at the Chrysler Corp.'s Twinsburg stamping plant.

The 13 were to appear before Common Pleas Judge Stephen C. Colopy, who Thursday issued a temporary injunction preventing pickets from interfering with movement of workers in and out of the plant.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged toward another record high early this afternoon after two days of irregularity.

Trading was active.

Industrials posted gains of fractions to a point or more. Rails and utilities were a mingling of small gains and losses. Steels, nonferrous metals and selected issues were higher.

Continued strength in copper prices abroad accompanied an advance by coppers. Aluminums were helped by a statement of a General Motors engineer to the effect that aluminum auto engines are not competitive cost-wise.

International Nickel, a big copper producer, added more than 2 points. Alcoa gained about 2 also. Magma Copper advanced beyond a point. Aluminum was up about a point.

Anaconda, American Smelting and Kennecott gained sizable fractions.

Gains of about a point were scored by U. S. Steel, Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet, Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin rose fractionally.

General Precision spurred more than 2. Up a point or so were Schering and Lorillard.

Reynolds Tobacco dropped a point, apparently in disappointment that the dividend boost to $1.00 from 90 cents was not greater.

United Aircraft and Douglas were off fractions. Boeing and General Dynamics rose slightly.

Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Pacific and New York Central were small losers. Seaboard picked up a fraction and Santa Fe was firm. American Telephone shaded off despite higher earnings. Motors leaned higher. GM, Chrysler and American Motors gained slightly while Ford was unchanged.

Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical and Du Pont were ahead about a point.

U. S. government bonds extended their rally into the fifth straight session.

Body of Pope

left his homeward-bound pilgrim ship at the Azores to fly back for the obsequies and the conclave that will elect a new pope.

He was led up the marble staircase by Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi Masella, who was elected Thursday by other cardinals as the church's chief executive until a new pope is chosen.

Most of the 55 living cardinals were arranging to be in Rome before the end of the official mourning and for the great election conclave which will meet as soon as possible after Oct. 24, 15 days following the death.

But several of the princes of the church are ill and others will be prevented from coming by the Iron Curtain.

C. of C. Board To Meet

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet at 8 p. m. Monday, according to Walter Morrow, president. He pointed out that the meeting time will be 8 p. m. instead of the customary 7:30 p. m.

O'Neill 'Fails' To Keep 1956 Pledge, Claim

CLEVELAND (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle accused Gov. C. William O'Neill today of making meaningless promises about juvenile delinquency after failing to keep the ones he made in the 1956 campaign.

The Democratic nominee for governor noted that the Ohio Welfare Conference recently spoke out on Ohio's overcrowded juvenile institutions and the need for better trained personnel to man them.

"The answer of the governor was a pledge that he would appoint a committee to study the problems of delinquency and youth," DiSalle said.

DiSalle said that during the 1956 campaign O'Neill vowed that his program would include legislation, citizen group cooperation, parent education, along with every possible means to alert Ohio citizens to the gravity of the problem.

"None of these promises has materialized," DiSalle declared. "If they had, there would be no need to repeat them now."

"If there is anything we don't need," he continued, "it's another study. The Ohio Legislative Service Commission issued a full research report just last year. The Ohio Committee on Delinquency and Crime made another exhaustive study. And a committee of the U. S. Senate this year and last produced other reports."

DiSalle said Ohio's program

EIB Invitations Are Sent Out

Visit To Schools
Slated for Oct. 23

Invitations to go to the Washington C. H. schools and look them over on Education-Industry-Business Day on Oct. 23 have been mailed to business and industry leaders here.

A joint project of the schools and Chamber of Commerce, EIB Day will start with an assembly in the high school auditorium from 9 to 10:15 a. m. Another assembly, at which the teachers will be present to answer questions, will close the day's program.

Meanwhile, classes will be visited in the morning and afternoon.

The visitors will be asked to fill out an evaluation chart at the end of the day.

A card, on which the business and industry leaders can note the class they want to attend, was enclosed with the invitations. Deadline for reservations is Oct. 14.

In the letter of invitation, Superintendent W. A. Smith said "the teachers in our schools are moulding our future. . . whether it is good or bad depends upon how effective a job they do."

He also pointed out that the community has a partnership with the business of education and suggest-

October, the Month of Graciousness

This is the month probably looked forward to as an ideal period of the year, as much if not more, than any other month. Some call it the "intermediate" month. It does not represent either summer or winter but moves along blithely in a rather middle-of-the-road pattern of its own choosing.

Splashing the trees with its rich autumn colors, for many Fayette County people it is the most desirable time to travel or to take weekend trips.

Hundreds of motorists from the Fayette community look forward to October for planning drives into the southern Ohio hill counties to enjoy the glorious scenery in its vivid colors.

There are some who anxiously await April which brings the dogwood blossoms, or June as an ordinarily good month to start vacation traveling. October however, sponsors the late-blooming flowers and the enriched colors of the foliage, at the same time giving the birds warning of the time to move southward. October means the beginning of football frenzy and usually is an ideal time to travel to distant places in following a favorite team.

There is something about this month that has a different tingle. There is the haze of woodsmoke in the air; there comes those luscious pumpkin pies, scores of friendly social events with just enough cool weather to make outdoor affairs attractive.

There also is a certain restraint about October which often brings rains without severe storms, coolness without freeze.

This tenth month of the year labors quietly to give all living things their hours of pleasure and grace before the rough and turbulent winter comes upon us to hold its tight embrace about us for long months ahead.

For the delightful time of the year with activities to keep long in memory, most of us will choose October.

Newsman Finally Writes Book

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the most effective ways for a newspaperman to lose grace among other newspapermen is to write a book.

The reason is simple. The rest of us talk all the time about writing a book. But being men of great talent, vivid imagination, and easy rationalization, we never do.

Thus, Dick Newcomb of The Associated Press has dismayed his old friends. He not only talked about writing a book; he actually wrote one. To make matters worse, he wrote a good book, and it was published. It is now a best-seller. How unfriendly can you get?

His book is "Abandon Ship," a taut chronicle of the sinking of the cruiser Indianapolis late in World War II.

What makes Dick's defection even more painful is that all along he had the excuses the rest of us had for not writing a book. Such as: "Too tired at the end of a working day." And: "My family demands too much of my time." And, best of all: "I got no place to write."

Dick had no place to write, but he cleared and laid claim to the starboard side of the basement of his home in Haworth, N.J. His wife Alice was told that henceforth she would be confined to the port side, the side with the oil burner, the washing machine, and surplus family junk.

"It worked out fine," Dick says, "except in the winter when she violated our territorial agreement. She hung wet clothes to dry over my desk."

His desk was a sheet of plywood stretched over two sawhorses. His filing cabinets were grocery cartons and the cinder-block basement wall where he soon spread out with huge charts of the Pacific and blueprints of the Indianapolis.

The book took 2½ years for research and writing.

"Apparently," he says, "I was fated to finish it. Every spring I thought I'd have a grand excuse not to finish it. Every other spring the basement used to leak. But in the time I worked on the book it stayed dry until two weeks after I finished the final draft."

How does a man who spends eight hours a day working, two hours a day commuting, and supposedly the rest of his time appeasing a wife, two high school daughters and a house in need of repair—how does such a man write a book?

"It's easy," Dick insists. "You work nights. First you have dinner. Then you do your daughter's geometry. Then you get your wife well situated with the evening paper, a TV program, and a tall drink. Then you disappear into the basement until, hours later, a voice yells down from the master bedroom 'Hey, Zola, it's midnight!'"

Now that the book is written and selling, Dick has other problems to cope with. Most people have inflated ideas of best sellers. The author of a best seller has a hard time convincing others that the east wing of Ft. Knox is not involved.

"The children," Dick says, "are convinced they're going to get their own cars, and my wife is convinced we're getting a new house, and I'm still worried about making payments on the old car and the old house."

"Relatives think I'm hoarding my fortune. Friends think I'm greedy for not retiring and giving my job to someone who needs the money. And every time I buy a new hedge clipper or rake, a neighbor says: 'You're smart, Dicky boy. Live it up while you can!'"

So You're Sitting Pretty?

By George Sokolsky

About 20 years ago, I moved into a rather fashionable, pleasant, well-managed apartment house and settled down to comfortable living in the more prosperous years of my life. The rent was reasonable because there was a depression, and places like this house were half vacant.

So we were sitting pretty and we spent some money on carpets, drapes and such and we invited guests to dinner and showed off all the bounties with which we were blessed.

True, the building had been foreclosed for its mortgage and was being held by a life insurance company which was losing money on it. But their loss was my gain. The insurance company maintained the building in tip-top shape and we had excellent services as though we were really among the fancy people.

Then the insurance company found a customer. Whether my landlord was Trujillo himself or some member of his family or somebody else down in the Dominican Republic, we did not quite know. But we became Dominican-owned and every time a pipe burst or the boiler went out of order, we had to wait weeks on end before word came from the Dominican-Republican authorizing repairs.

The building deteriorated. The services deteriorated. No longer did we have a doorman to get a taxi. In fact, often two elevators were run by one man which can be dangerous. Also the elevators broke down often.

I never could figure out how the inspectors passed those elevators until someone told me that which I had no way of proving and therefore can say nothing about it. There were many obvious violations and hazards, and robberies occurred. We were no longer swells, but the rent cost more.

Also, our very delightful neighborhood deteriorated. It used to be that one could take a pleasant walk of a Sunday morning and meet folks one knew and have a talk. But now now.

The side streets have become filthy. Automobiles line both sides and are most often double-parked. The noise and soot are trying. We are citizens in a slum.

Once a fellow came to see me to request that I write something favorable about Trujillo and the Dominican Republic. I showed him how this home of ours had deteriorated after two or three 15 per cent rent increases ordered by the Rent Control Board which calculated landlord's hardships by a formula that increases building deterioration.

So I said: "I don't know this Trujillo personally. Maybe he is all you say he is and that he did not have Galindez murdered. But if he runs his show in the Caribbean the way he runs this house, milking it and putting nothing back into it, I want none of him or his gang."

Some of the apartments were broken up into minor cubby-holes and we got some very peculiar neighbors, who stayed for short periods.

Anyhow, the Dominicans apparently got tired of our complaints and sold the place to one of those realty companies which take a house to sell it quickly, which often inflates its value by some kind of improvement that the tenants find horrible, which bring down costs by decreasing services and show a loss to get a legal increase from the Rent Control Board.

They leased the building to an agent who immediately began tearing it apart to put in a garage, to lessen the lobby space to cut down services and to show great activity.

As things in this county, one very busy tenant organized a tenants' association. He telephoned all and sundry to join up with him, to hire a lawyer, to get action. He advised that warrants be sworn for the arrest of those depriving the tenants of normal facilities.

He advised that affidavits requested by the agent not be provided. A very busy man, indeed, was this neighbor. On the other hand, he quietly and gently signed up with the agent for another five years all on his own.

So I figure it is better to own a little white house in a little village than to be subject to the law of supply and demand in the big city where middle-class people do not have enough political strength to get the protection that those on relief get.

Maybe, we shall all be forced to move out of the big cities. And who really cares? Down with the swells!

Racism Said 'God' Worshipped by Millions

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Harold Cooke Phillips told the 133rd state convention of the Ohio Baptists Thursday night that racism still is the God worshipped by millions, although it is a complete denial of the Christian God. "As for the communists," he said, "how one wishes they were really atheists. Instead they are fanatical believers in a God made in their own distorted image." Dr. Phillips is the pastor emeritus of Shaker Heights First Baptist Church.

GOOD SERVANTS, notes Patrick Mahony, are virtually nonexistent in Ireland today. They all come to America, where wages are much higher. Thus, a rich Irish squire of County Clare was particularly disconsolate when his cook died. He ordered a fine headstone for her, with these words chiselled thereon: "Peace Be To Her Hashes!" Mahony tells of another stone in the same graveyard that decorates the resting place of a one-time dentist: "Stranger, heed this spot with due gravity. For here Doctor Mac Lavery Filled his last cavity."

Occupation Hazards Shown by Statistics

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IS your job dangerous? What are the chances of your being injured while at work?

Even though coal mining injuries have been reduced 64 per cent in the past eight years, this is still the most dangerous occupation, according to the statistics published recently in "Patterns of Disease." The percentage of mining injuries which result in death remains higher than for any other industry.

Temporary Disability

Fortunately, most industrial accidents involve only temporary disability.

There were 48.24 injuries per 1,000,000 man hours worked in coal mining operations in 1956. Lumber and wood products work (excluding furniture making) was the next most dangerous occupation with 38.9 injuries per 1,000,000 man hours.

Other Hazardous Fields

Next comes construction, 31.2; trucking and warehousing, 30.2; mining and quarrying other than coal, 29.9; ship and boat building, 19.9.

Food processing is close behind, 19.0; then furniture and fixtures, 17.7; the wholesale and retail trade, 12.5; hotels, 11.9.

Private transit ranks next, 11.7, and railroad equipment follows, 10.0. The injuries incurred in the manufacture of railroad equipment carry the greatest danger of permanent disability.

Next in order are printing and publishing, 9.2; chemicals and allied products, 8.1; private hospitals, 7.5; public utilities (non-government), 7.2; apparel and other finished textile products, 6.4; ordinance and accessories, 5.1.

Auto Hazards

The manufacturing of autos is the next most dangerous occupation, 5.1. This follows the railroad equipment industry in likelihood of injuries causing permanent disability.

Finally, come aircraft manufacture, 3.4, and telephone manufacture, 0.8.

I haven't listed agriculture because it isn't an industrial occupation. However, it is a dangerous one. In fact, one of our most hazardous ones. Most farm accidents (44 per cent) occur in the barn or barnyard. Principal causes are machinery, falls and farm animals.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

G.F. What is the treatment for worms?

A. There are many types of worms and the treatment depends upon the type of worms present.

Hollywood in Revolt

Why Do Actors Control Movies?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The men who hold the balance of power in the movie industry are no longer the big studio bosses but a dozen top stars.

'How did this revolution happen? Let the stars themselves explain. Some modestly deny they are the new rulers of Hollywood. But all admit the power of box office favorites has grown immeasurably in the past decade.

Frank Sinatra: "I saw this trend coming five years ago. I knew the time would come when the major studios no longer existed as such, but would offer their facilities in partnership with the actors and creators of film properties."

Sinatra, dropped from his MGM contract as a singer on the skids six years ago, is now back at the studio—as partner in "Some Came Running" and two more films.

James Stewart: "After the glamor and glitter is stripped away, you've got to realize that movies are pretty much like any other business. We exist on supply and demand too. The demand now is for solid, reliable performers who can get people out of their homes and into the theaters."

"People don't have the movie habit any more. They won't go to the theater unless they're pretty sure of getting their money's worth. When they know that Duke Wayne or Gary Cooper is in the picture, they can judge from past performance that it ought to be pretty good."

Cary Grant: "We've gotten to be like a well-advertised brand of tea. Housewives buy that brand of tea rather than take a chance on a brand they're not familiar with."

"The moviegoer is the same way. He'll see one of our pictures because he knows he's pretty sure of getting a certain quality, while he might not take a chance on a new fellow across the street."

Why are there only a dozen stars who fit this category?

William Holden: "The studios are to blame for that. Right after the war, there were 750 to 800 actors under exclusive contract to the studios. Today there are 175, and virtually none of them are big names."

"As soon as the picture business started getting tough, the studios dropped the actors. The producers argued why should they pay an actor $2,500 or $5,000 a week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baleful signs for Gamal Abdel Nasser are beginning to appear on the troubled horizon of the Middle East, but American officials are taking no comfort from them.

Nasser and his flirtation with Moscow have been the bane of U.S. policy makers for years. The thorn has been particularly irksome because they had such high hopes for him when he overthrew the corrupt and decadent Egyptian government of King Farouk in 1952.

His power reached a peak last Feb. 1 when Egypt and Syria merged into the United Arab Republic. At last he had taken a giant step toward his goal of uniting all the Arab countries.

But Nasser may now be having second thoughts, not only about the wisdom of taking over Syria, but also about leading pan-Arabism as well.

Nasser is confronted with a disenchanted and restive Syria in his own camp and a strong new Arab force outside it.

The best available intelligence estimate here on the Middle East is an apprehensive one. In the opinion of one highly qualified expert, almost anything could happen anywhere—perhaps before the month is out.

Nasser is faced in Iraq with the rise of Abdul Kassem, leader of the July 14 revolt which threw out the pro-West government of King Faisal and Premier Nuri Said. Premier Kassem is no pan-Arab like Nasser, but an Iraqi nationalist. Nasser cannot dispose of Kassem as an American stooge or a tool of Britain.

Kassem demonstrated his independence and growing power last weekend by smashing a revolt led by troops following Col. Abdul Aref, his chief rival. Aref, a strong supporter of Nasser, has been agitating for Iraq's annexation to the U.A.R.

Iraq and Syria, lying together in the Fertile Crescent, are far closer culturally than are Egypt and Syria. Reports are that some in Syria, unhappy over playing second fiddle in the U.A.R., would like to break away and join up with Iraq.

Nasser may have been reacting to such sentiment when he reorganized his Cabinet two days ago. Of the 21 members, 15 are Egyptians and 6 Syrians.

According to some advances, Nasser now believes Egypt and Syria might better have federated, instead of merging. That way each would have preserved more national identity, and less responsibility would weigh on him.

One result of Nasser's difficulties in his new role might be to arrest his ambition to get all Arab states under his power. But there could be a far more ominous result.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia is reported ailing while intrigue rages among the princes over who should succeed him. The Sudan is shaky and Yemen is no better off. These reports say.

Lebanon's leaders are fighting among themselves in what could develop into a religious war, pitting Christians against Moslems in

I never could figure out how the inspectors passed those elevators until someone told me that which I had no way of proving and therefore can say nothing about it. There were many obvious violations and hazards, and robberies occurred. We were no longer swells, but the rent cost more.

Also, our very delightful neighborhood deteriorated. It used to be that one could take a pleasant walk of a Sunday morning and meet folks one knew and have a talk. But now now.

The side streets have become filthy. Automobiles line both sides and are most often double-parked. The noise and soot are trying. We are citizens in a slum.

Once a fellow came to see me

to request that I write something favorable about Trujillo and the Dominican Republic. I showed him how this home of ours had deteriorated after two or three 15 percent rent increases ordered by the Rent Control Board which calculated landlord's hardships by a formula that increases building deterioration.

So I said: "I don't know this Trujillo personally. Maybe he is all you say he is and that he did not have Galindez murdered. But if he runs his show in the Caribbean the way he runs this house, milking it and putting nothing back into it, I want none of him or his gang."

So I figure it is better to own a little white house in a little village than to be subject to the law of supply and demand in the big city where middle-class people do not have enough political strength to get the protection that those on relief get.

Maybe, we shall all be forced to move out of the big cities. And who really cares? Down with the swells!

Temporary Disability
Fortunately, most industrial accidents involve only temporary disability.

There were 48.24 injuries per 1,000,000 man hours worked in coal mining operations in 1956. Lumber and wood products work (excluding furniture making) was the next most dangerous occupation with 38.9 injuries per 1,000,000 man hours.

Other Hazardous Fields
Next comes construction, 31.2; trucking and warehousing, 30.2; mining and quarrying with other coal, 27.9; ship and boat building, 19.9.

Food processing is close behind, 19.0; then furniture and fixtures, 17.7; the wholesale and retail trade, 12.5; hotels, 11.9.

Private transit ranks next, 11.7, and railroad equipment follows, 10.0. The injuries incurred in the manufacture of railroad equipment carry the greatest danger of permanent disability.

Next in order are printing and publishing, 9.2; chemicals and allied products, 8.1; private hospitals, 7.5; public utilities (non-government), 7.2; apparel and other finished textile products, 6.4; ordnance and accessories, 5.1.

Auto Hazards
The manufacturing of autos is the next most dangerous occupation, 5.1. This follows the railroad equipment industry in likelihood of injuries causing permanent disability.

Finally, come aircraft manufacture, 3.4, and telephone manufacture, 0.8.

I haven't listed agriculture because it isn't an industrial occupation. However, it is a dangerous one. In fact, one of our most hazardous ones. Most farm accidents (44 per cent) occur in the barn or barnyard. Principal causes are machinery, falls and farm animals.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
G.F. What is the treatment for worms?
A. There are many types of worms and the treatment depends upon the type of worms present.

Hollywood in Revolt

Why Do Actors Control Movies?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The men who hold the balance of power in the movie industry are no longer the big studio bosses but a dozen top stars.

How did this revolution happen? Let the stars themselves explain. Some modestly deny they are the new rulers of Hollywood. But all admit the power of box office favorites has grown immeasurably in the past decade.

Frank Sinatra: "I saw this trend coming five years ago. I knew the time would come when the major studios no longer existed as such, but would offer their facilities in partnership with the actors and creators of film properties."

Sinatra, dropped from his MGM contract as a singer on the skids six years ago, is now back at the studio—as partner in "Some Came Running" and two more films.

James Stewart: "After the glamor and glitter is stripped away, you've got to realize that movies are pretty much like any other business. We exist on supply and demand too. The demand now is for solid, reliable performers who can get people out of their homes and into the theaters."

"People don't have the movie habit any more. They won't go to the theater unless they're pretty sure of getting their money's worth. When they know that Duke Wayne or Gary Cooper is in the picture, they can judge from past performance that it ought to be pretty good."

Cary Grant: "We've gotten to be like a well-advertised brand of tea. Housewives buy that brand of tea rather than take a chance on a brand they're not familiar with."

"The moviegoer is the same way. He'll see one of our pictures because he knows he's pretty sure of getting a certain quality, while he might not take a chance on a new fellow across the street."

Why are there only a dozen stars who fit this category? William Holden: "The studios are to blame for that. Right after the war, there were 750 to 800 actors under exclusive contract to the studios. Today there are 175, and virtually none of them are big names."

"As soon as the picture business started getting tough, the studios dropped the actors. The producers argued why should they pay an actor $2,500 or $5,000 a week when they can let him go and hire him back at $100,000 per picture."

Of the golden dozen stars, all but Marlon Brando were under studio contracts at one time. But now they are free agents and get as much as $750,000 in salary and perhaps half the profits.

What happened to the pioneers who built the movie industry and once held complete power over it?

Holden: "There is no second generation in the picture business. The Mayers and the Cohns and the Warners and the rest of them created the industry and ruled it with iron hands. But then they got older and lost some of their drive."

"The pioneers are dying off, and they left no one to take their places."

So the top-drawer names ascended to power. Television was their unwitting aid. The flood of free home entertainment knocked out the B picture. Unable to sustain high overheads, the major studios became hives of independent producers.

The Nation Today

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Baleful signs for Gamal Abdel Nasser are beginning to appear on the troubled horizon of the Middle East, but American officials are taking no comfort from them.

Nasser and his flirtation with Moscow have been the bane of U.S. policy makers for years. The thorn has been particularly irksome because they had such high hopes for him when he overthrew the corrupt and decadent Egyptian government of King Farouk in 1952.

His power reached a peak last Feb. 1 when Egypt and Syria merged into the United Arab Republic. At last he had taken a giant step toward his goal of uniting all the Arab countries.

But Nasser may now be having second thoughts, not only about the wisdom of taking over Syria, but also about leading pan-Arabism as well.

Nasser is confronted with a disenchanted and restive Syria with in his own camp and a strong new Arab force outside it.

sem as an American stooge or a tool of Britain.

Kassem demonstrated his independence and growing power last weekend by smashing a revolt led by troops following Col. Abdul Aref, his chief rival. Aref, a strong supporter of Nasser, has been agitating for Iraq's annexation to the U.A.R.

Iraq and Syria, lying together in the Fertile Crescent, are far closer culturally than are Egypt and Syria. Reports are that some in Syria, unhappy over playing second fiddle in the U.A.R., would like to break away and join up with Iraq.

Nasser may have been reacting to such sentiment when he reorganized his Cabinet two days ago. Of the 21 members, 15 are Egyptians and 6 Syrians.

According to some advances, Nasser now believes Egypt and Syria might better have federated, instead of merging. That way each would have preserved more national identity, and less responsibility would weigh on him.

One result of Nasser's difficulties in his new role might be to arrest his ambition to get all Arab states under his power. But there could be a far more ominous result.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia is reported ailing while intrigue rages among the princes over who should succeed him. The Sudan is shaky and Yemen is no better off, these reports say.

Lebanon's leaders are fighting among themselves in what could develop into a religious war, pitting Christians against Moslems in a further confounding of an already embittered situation.

A weak and confused Nasser would not be a welcome sight to Washington officials concerned about the general state of Middle East affairs. They were happiest when Nasser emerged as a leader. He seemed then to be the one man commanding general respect with whom they could get things done.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
There will be color in the hills over the weekend, although the colors may not be as widespread and as vivid as we have seen many times before.

Starting last Sunday there was a sudden marked trend toward colors developing.

As late as the season is before the trees don their autumnal robes, it is possible that the coming Sunday may be the best to see the wide range of colors this fall, for a few heavy frosts, followed by rain, may denude most of the trees.

By Sunday there should be many of those individual maples and a few other trees, standing out in such an array of beauty that to see just one of them is worth going a long distance.

So widespread is the beauty of the hills in the autumn that a long trip is not necessary to see the wonders of nature in almost all shades of the rainbow.

There should be a wide range of lovely colors in the hills of Hocking, Fairfield, Perry, Athens, Vinton, Jackson, Scioto, Adams, and eastern Highland counties with many places where one may enjoy a picnic lunch or supper while drinking in the beauty of the surrounding area.

In fact you will not have to leave the city to see a great deal of loveliness among some of the soft maples and two or three other kinds of trees.

LOST KITTEN
As I walked into the Post Office lobby I was greeted by a series of plaintive mews, and a black and white kitten hurried toward me, inquiringly.

"What's the matter, are you lost?" I said.
"Y-e-s-s-s" seemed to be its answer, and apparently such was the case.

The little fellow rubbed about my feet, still mewing, and doing its best to acquire a new owner who would see that it was fed and sheltered.

Before I left it had accosted another person who entered the lobby, with the same friendly "meows" and rubbed about his feet.

I knew it would be only a matter of a short time until someone entered who could really take care of the friendly little fellow.

When I visited the Post Office an hour later, the kitten was gone, and I could visualize seeing it carried away by a small boy or girl who was thrilled to own a real, live kitten that needed a home.

BIRDS BY THOUSANDS
For three or four weeks blackbirds and starlings by the thousands have been congregating at roosting places north and northeast of this city.

Recently they have shifted their location and now each evening as the shades of night approach, thousands of the noisy birds come into the city, invariably from the south and alight in the trees for the night.

In the northeastern part of the city they have taken possession of many trees, and resist ordinary measures to dislodge them.

Unless they are frightened a way they will continue to be a nuisance in the city for the next two or three weeks — or until the leaves fall.

Nearly every year tens of thousands of the birds assemble nightly in this city and other points in the county, and usually can only be ousted by noise, or gunfire. And, of course, gunfire is not permitted within the city.

20 YEARS AGO
W. W. Wilson of the Wilson Hardware Co., died at 81.

Pennington Brothers Bakery was nearing completion on Clinton Ave. The Weaver Store was installing first zero locker plant in city on N. Main St.

Hitler was still making demands on the Czechs, and the situation in Europe was clouded with rumors of war.

A new front was being placed in the Passmore Building, Court St.

A number of corn pickers were in operation in Fayette County with indications that their use would spread rapidly.

A farewell reunion at Sunnyside School attracted a large crowd. The old building was to be replaced by a new one costing around $56,000.

Six hundred unclaimed checks remained as assets of the Ohio State Bank which was being liquidated.

Robert A. Taft, candidate for U. S. senator, and John W. Bricker, candidate for governor, spoke at a large gathering in Jeffersonville.

Relief rolls in the county showed a sharp decline during the early fall.

The number of motor vehicles registered in Ohio for the fiscal year 1957 totaled 4,660,195, including 3,339,672 passenger cars.

Adventists Here To Support 'Voice'

An international "Voice" program using 271 overseas radio stations to send religion behind the "Iron Curtain," will receive funds from the Washington C. H. Seventh Day Adventist Church, Broadway, Saturday.

In speaking of the special offering, the Rev. Joseph Krpaek, pastor, said: "The job Christianity has to do in penetrating the 'Iron Curtain,' that today cloaks millions of non-Christians, is just as great, perhaps greater, than that of the famed 'Voice of America' broadcast, as it seeks to disestablish Communist ideology around the world."

The "Voice" Pastor Krpaek referred to is the "Voice of Prophecy" international radio broadcast of the Seventh Day Adventists which beams its message in 20 different languages over 800 radio stations in the United States and abroad.

Pastor Krpaek also said that the voice of Prophecy provides free Christian Bible course for its listeners in 65 different languages, including courses in English and Japanese, and that several millions have requested these.

This program has been on the air for more than 25 years.

Route 41 Improvement Aim of New Association
CHILLICOTHE — A Route 41 Improvement Assn. is in the making with a goal of "keeping the route one of the most attractive secondary roads in Ohio," according to Highway Division Engineer Paul M. Miller.

One of the items the group is interested in is a new bridge over the Ohio River at Aberdeen. Route 41 extends from Greenfield south to Aberdeen.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
There will be color in the hills over the week end, although the colors may not be as widespread and as vivid as we have seen many times before.

Starting last Sunday there was a sudden marked trend toward colors developing.

As late as the season is before the trees don their autumnal robes, it is possible that the coming Sunday may be the best to see the wide range of colors this fall, for a few heavy frosts, followed by rain, may denude most of the trees.

By Sunday there should be many of those individual maples and a few other trees, standing out in such an array of beauty that to see just one of them is worth going a long distance.

So widespread is the beauty of the hills in the autumn that a long trip is not necessary to see the wonders of nature in almost all shades of the rainbow.

There should be a wide range of lovely colors in the hills of Hocking, Fairfield, Perry, Athens, Vinton, Jackson, Scioto, Adams, and eastern Highland counties with many places where one may enjoy a picnic lunch or supper while drinking in the beauty of the surrounding area.

In fact you will not have to leave the city to see a great deal of loveliness among some of the soft maples and two or three other kinds of trees.

LOST KITTEN
As I walked into the Post Office lobby I was greeted by a series of plaintive mews, and a black and white kitten hurried toward me, inquiringly.

"What's the matter, are you lost?" I said.

"Y-e-s-s-s" seemed to be its answer, and apparently such was the case.

The little fellow rubbed about my feet, still mewing, and doing its best to acquire a new owner who would see that it was fed and sheltered.

Before I left it had accosted another person who entered the lobby, with the same friendly "mewms" and rubbed about his feet.

I knew it would be only a matter of a short time until someone entered who could really take care of the friendly little fellow.

When I visited the Post Office an hour later, the kitten was gone, and I could visualize seeing it carried away by a small boy or girl who was thrilled to own a real, live kitten that needed a home.

BIRDS BY THOUSANDS
For three or four weeks blackbirds and starlings by the thousands have been congregating at roosting places north and northeast of this city.

Recently they have shifted their location and now each evening as the shades of night approach, thousands of the noisy birds come into the city, invariably from the south and alight in the trees for the night.

In the northeastern part of the city they have taken possession of many trees, and resist ordinary measures to dislodge them.

Unless they are frightened a way they will continue to be a nuisance in the city for the next two or three weeks — or until the leaves fall.

Nearly every year tens of thousands of the birds assemble nightly in this city and other points in the county, and usually can only be ousted by noise, or gunfire. And, of course, gunfire is not permitted within the city.

20 YEARS AGO
W. W. Wilson of the Wilson Hardware Co., died at 81.

Pennington Brothers Bakery was nearing completion on Clinton Ave. The Weaver Store was installing first zero locker plant in city on N. Main St.

Hitler was still making demands on the Czechs, and the situation in Europe was beclouded with rumors of war.

A new front was being placed in the Passmore Building, Court St.

A number of corn pickers were in operation in Fayette County with indications that their use would spread rapidly.

A farewell reunion at Sunnyside School attracted a large crowd. The old building was to be replaced by a new one costing around $56,000.

Six hundred unclaimed checks remained as assets of the Ohio State Bank which was being liquidated.

Robert A. Taft, candidate for U. S. senator, and John W. Bricker, candidate for governor, spoke at a large gathering in Jeffersonville.

Relief rolls in the county showed a sharp decline during the early fall.

The number of motor vehicles registered in Ohio for the fiscal year 1957 totaled 4,660,195, including 3,339,672 passenger cars.

The "Voice" Pastor Krapalek referred to is the "Voice of Prophecy" international radio broadcast of the Seventh Day Adventists which beams its message in 20 different languages over 800 radio stations in the United States and abroad.

Pastor Krapalek also said that the voice of Prophecy provides free Christian Bible course for its listeners in 65 different languages, including courses in English and Japanese braille, and that several millions have requested these.

This program has been on the air for more than 25 years.

Adventists Here To Support 'Voice'

An international "Voice" program using 271 overseas radio stations to send religion behind the "Iron Curtain," will receive funds from the Washington C. H. Seventh Day Adventist Church, Broadway, Saturday.

In speaking of the special offering, the Rev. Joseph Krapalek, pastor, said: "The job Christianity has to do in penetrating the 'Iron Curtain,' that today cloaks millions of non-Christians, is just as great, perhaps greater, than that of the famed 'Voice of America' broadcast, as it seeks to disestablish Communist ideology around the world."

"Musical Contrast in Travel" Presented at Cecilian Meeting

"Musical Contrast in Travel" was presented at the Cecilian meeting Wednesday evening when the club met in the lovely country home of Mrs. Harry G. Craig near Bloomingburg.

The music of many foreign countries was illustrated in vocal and instrumental numbers and in a dance by the club's special guests, Mrs. Richard Klein of Huron, the former June Denton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Denton.

Miss Christine Switzer, program chairman, quoted Carroll D. Kearns who said "music is the language of common understanding and understanding, peace will be found."

Mrs. H. H. Denton, who recently visited in several foreign countries, narrated the tour. Her interesting comments of personal experiences on her trip and her interpretation of the music, added to the enjoyment and enlightenment of the music, pre-ent for each land.

England was the first country visited, and to represent its music a trio of Miss Clara Belle Robinson, Miss Jean Everhart and Mrs. Mary Gillespie sang the old English melody, "When Love is Kind," with words by Thomas Moore.

The vocal ensemble, Miss Robinson, Miss Switzer, Mrs. William Brown, first sopranos; Miss Everhart, Mrs. Omar Schwartz, Mrs. Otis Core, second sopranos; Mrs. Lewis Duncan, Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Virgil Dwyer, altos; accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Buck, sang "My Wild Irish Rose" by Chauncy Olcott for the next country, Ireland.

A violin solo, "Spanish Dance" by Kreitzler, was prepared by Mrs. Core for Spain.

The can-can dance theme from Jacques Offenbach's "Orphans in the Underworld" was played by Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Buck as a piano duet to present France's music.

Miss Robinson sang the solo "Funiculi Funicular," a popular song of Italy, to bring the group that country's music.

Part of a record, "Africa Speaks, American Answers," featuring Guy Warren, a native West African and his "talking drums," was heard.

An accordion solo, "Liechensteiner Polka," was played by Mrs. Dwyer to represent the music of Poland.

An old legend concerning the "Lozelei Rock" on the river Rhine in Germany has been set to music and this was sung by the vocal ensemble to depict the music of Germany.

For Portugal, the group heard a portion of the record of Amalia Rodrigues, a popular Portuguese singer at the present time who is noted for her interpretations of the Fado music of that country.

The fascinating music of China was presented as a vocal duet by Miss Robinson and Mrs. Duncan who sang a clever tune, "Chinese Lanterns."

Mrs. Denton read parts of a letter from Dorothy Nelson who lived for sometime in the country of Japan. Her letter was most informative of the feeling the Japanese have for their music.

"The Mexican Hat Dance," as performed by Mrs. Klein, was a highlight of the program and especially enjoyed. She preceded the dance with comments on the nine different steps included, and their meaning. She stated "the dance has been accepted as one of the three national dances of Mexico."

Returning home to America the group heard an accordion solo, "International Waltz," played by Mrs. Dwyer. The selection was arranged by Lawrence Welk, a popular band leader in our country today.

Mrs. Duncan led the entire group in the informal singing of several folk tunes to bring the program to a close.

Members of the program committee who took part in the vocal ensemble and in the instrumental numbers, and in accompanying as well, included Miss Robinson, Miss Everhart, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Schwartz, Mrs. Core, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Dwyer, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Denton and Mrs. Klein.

Refreshments were served to the group by the hostesses, Mrs. Herbert Hoppes, chairman, Mrs. Robert Maust, Mrs. G. B. Vance and Mrs. Edwin Wagner.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Dewey Stone, Mrs. George Pommert, Mrs. Donald King, Mrs. Millbourne Flee, Mrs. Martin Morris and Miss Anna Varlas.

Preceding the program Miss Robinson conducted a short business meeting and the hymn of the month, "In Christ There is No East or West," was sung under the direction of Mrs. Coyt Stookey with

Never a Dull Moment For this WCH Mother

If you think your life is complicated, just look at some of the things Mrs. Kathleen (Katie) Thompson, 309 S. Fayette St., has been up against for the past 10 days—and there are still more to come.

Mrs. Thompson's calendar of events ran in this order:

Her son, Robert Detweiler took his physical for the armed forces Sept. 29.

The following Wednesday, Oct. 1, was also his birthday, but he didn't celebrate it alone because on the same day, her oldest daughter, Mrs. Peggy (Detweiler) Cox, gave birth to a 8-pound 8-ounce boy at the Memorial Hospital. This made Mrs. Thompson a grandmother for the second time.

One day later, Oct. 2, a shower for Jacqueline Detweiler, second of her three daughters, required her presence.

On Oct. 3, came more excitement. Her youngest daughter, Gail Detweiler, was chosen for the WCH Homecoming Queen.

Another day dawned, Oct. 4, and came the wedding ceremony of Robert Detweiler, the eldest son, to Judy Mossbarger. Sunday brought a little time for breathing, that is, between visits to the hospital to see her new grandson.

Monday, Oct. 6, began a fresh week of events. Her daughter came home from the hospital, but, of course, not without "Mom's" help with the new baby.

Gail's coronation Friday at Gardner Park will again call for Mrs. Thompson's presence at the Homecoming ceremonies.

Then, Oct. 11, will bring another wedding ceremony, that of her daughter, Jackie, to Phillip Johnson in the South Side Church of Christ. The reception will follow at her mother's home.

After discussing these matters from behind the counter of a Corner Drug Store where she works, Mrs. Thompson said: "It's just all part of being a mother, I guess." Then she paused and added, "but I don't know why it had to come all at once?"

Metal Trades Hint Good Times Ahead

Demand on Upswing; Smelters Hear Few Gripes on Price Hike

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Solid evidence that better times are returning is offered today by the metal trades.

Producers of steel, copper, aluminum, lead and zinc, all say demand is on the upswing. This has enabled all of them to raise prices since June. Lead, zinc and copper have gone up again just this week and producers and smelters say customers haven't balked at the higher costs.

Steel, copper and aluminum producers are stepping up output, lengthening work weeks or reactivating idle facilities to meet the new demand.

Lead and zinc producers are happily disposing of some of the big stocks of these metals above ground.

Domestic producers have been helped some by outside circumstances as well as by improving demand here.

Lead and zinc producers have got a big assist from the imposition Oct. 1 by the United States of import quotas on the metals.

Steel output is now back to 71 per cent of capacity, the highest rate since last November. At the bottom of the recession it had slipped below 50 per cent.

Steelmen says orders are coming in at a satisfactory pace. And they look for even more as soon as the last of the local auto strikes are cleared up. They say auto makers have been frugal in their buying of metals, but full scale production of 1959 models should make them more liberal in coming weeks.

Increasing construction outlays have been a big help to the metals trade. Public projects have taken up the slack caused by a dip in factory building.

Appliance makers and farm equipment makers are also better customers of the metals industry now.

Zinc producers report that both galvanizers and die casters are taking more of the metal. The lead producers are counting on more auto production to call for more batteries.

Increasing demand for aluminum by several industries has led both the Aluminum Co. of America and Reynolds Metals to step up output.

Metals have a long road to travel yet to be back to last year's level. But all of today's news is good because the metal industries are so basic to the American economy. If consumers continue

Pius Considered Audience As 'Window on the World'

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Medieval pomp and pageantry, surrounded Pius XII in the most impressive ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church.

Yet no other pope ever received so many people as simply as he did.

His audience, like those of his predecessor, Pius XI, were "a window on the world." No pontiff had ever looked so keenly from that window as did Pius XII.

Pius XII established many records. But the one for which millions will remember him in the immediate years to come is this:

He met more people than any other pontiff. The way was made easy for anyone who wished to see him.

He received more than 10 million persons — rulers and masses, rich and poor. There were private audiences with pageantry, as then he received Princess Elizabeth, who was to become England's queen. There were less formal, and informal special audiences, and great general audiences at which humble thousands plucked at his sleeve or tried to touch his robes with Rosary beads and crosses.

He received thousands of GIs after Rome's liberation. He received U. S. senators and congressmen during those months and urged them to devote themselves to aiding people of less fortunate nations.

Twice weekly during the 1950 Holy Year, general audiences were held in St. Peter's Basilica. Sometimes even the world's biggest church could not hold all the pilgrims.

His uncommon touch with the common man was evident.

"Excuse me if I made you wait a little," he said one day.

The people, hearing this use of the familiar first person singular instead of the formal "we," were astonished and silent. A moment later, Pius established easy communication and the play of answers and questions was under way.

During the Holy Year, Pius XII gave some 1,500 hours to more than 6,000 audiences of all kinds. He spoke on subjects that ranged from philosophy to smoking.

"You are surprised that we should receive you," he told a tobacco workers' congress. "But why not? You represent a large section of workers. That is reason enough."

Next: Communism and the search for peace.

'd-CON STOPPED RATS FROM EATING ME OUT OF HOUSE AND HOME!'

Read What Lowell Geringer, Of Wauson, Ohio, Has To Say About d-CON:

"Rats were a real problem with me. I had to get rid of them and so I turned to d-CON. I'd been using another rat-killer, but d-CON sure did the job. Let me tell you...d-CON stopped rats from eating me out of house and home!"

It's a fact—in the great corn and wheat belts of America, where farmers really know how to get rid of rats, d-CON outdoes all other rat and mouse killers combined!

Farmers know that d-CON is the quick, sure, easy way to rid their property of destructive, disease-spreading rats. For rats hungry eat d-CON's exclusive LX 3-2-1 formula, never suspect it's bait, never get bait-shy, devour it without guessing that every bite puts another nail in their coffin. d-CON actually makes rats commit suicide.

d-CON is THERMO-SEALED—always reaches you "factory fresh." Economical, too. One package of d-CON makes several bait stations. Remember, d-CON, used as directed, is safe to use around small children, pets, poultry and livestock, yet is guaranteed to keep your property rat and mouse free forever!

NEW SABINA SUBSTATION—The last phase of a $600,000 electrical construction program in Clinton and Fayette counties has been completed with the starting of a new substation at Sabina. The program also included a new 69,000 volt transmission line between Wilmington and Washington C. H., which will make more power available to the two counties and adjacent areas served by the Dayton Power and Light Co. Above are Orville Wilson, DP&L Sabina office manager, and M. E. Druley, DP&L district manager.

Never a Dull Moment For this WCH Mother

If you think your life is complicated, just look at some of the things Mrs. Kathleen (Katie) Thompson, 309 S. Fayette St., has been up against for the past 10 days—and there are still more to come.

Mrs. Thompson's calendar of events ran in this order: Her son, Robert Detweiler took his physical for the armed forces Sept. 29.

The following Wednesday, Oct. 1, was also his birthday, but he didn't celebrate it alone because on the same day, her oldest daughter, Mrs. Peggy (Detweiler) Cox, gave birth to a 8-pound 8-ounce boy at the Memorial Hospital. This made Mrs. Thompson a grandmother for the second time.

One day later, Oct. 2, a shower for Jacqueline Detweiler, second of her three daughters, required her presence.

On Oct. 3, came more excitement. Her youngest daughter, Gail Detweiler, was chosen for the WCH Homecoming Queen.

Another day dawned, Oct. 4, and came the wedding ceremony of Robert Detweiler, the oldest son, to Judy Mossbarger. Sunday brought a little time for breathing, that is, between visits to the hospital to see her new grandson.

Monday, Oct. 6, began a fresh week of events. Her daughter came home from the hospital, but, of course, not without "Mom's" help with the new baby.

Gail's coronation Friday at Gardner Park will again call for Mrs. Thompson's presence at the Homecoming ceremonies.

Then, Oct. 11, will bring another wedding ceremony, that of her daughter, Jackie, to Phillip Johnson in the South Side Church of Christ. The reception will follow at her mother's home.

After discussing these matters from behind the counter of a Corner Drug Store where she works, Mrs. Thompson said: "It's just all part of being a mother, I guess." Then she paused and added, "but I don't know why it had to come all at once?"

Metal Trades Hint Good Times Ahead

Demand on Upswing; Smelters Hear Few Gripes on Price Hike

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Solid evidence that better times are returning is offered today by the metal trades.

Producers of steel, copper, aluminum, lead and zinc, all say demand is on the upswing. This has enabled all of them to raise prices since June. Lead, zinc and copper have gone up again just this week and producers and smelters say customers haven't balked at the higher costs.

Steel, copper and aluminum producers are stepping up output, lengthening work weeks or reactivating idle facilities to meet the new demand.

Lead and zinc producers are happily disposing of some of the big stocks of these metals above ground.

Domestic producers have been helped some by outside circumstances as well as by improving demand here.

Lead and zinc producers have got a big assist from the imposition Oct. 1 by the United States of import quotas on the metals.

Steel output is now back to 71 per cent of capacity, the highest rate since last November. At the bottom of the recession it had slipped below 50 per cent.

Steelmen says orders are coming in at a satisfactory pace. And they look for even more as soon as the last of the local auto strikes are cleared up. They say auto makers have been frugal in their buying of metals, but full scale production of 1959 models should make them more liberal in coming weeks.

Increasing construction outlays have been a big help to the metals trade. Public projects have taken up the slack caused by a dip in factory building.

Appliance makers and farm equipment makers are also better customers of the metals industry now.

Zinc producers report that both galvanizers and die casters are taking more of the metal. The lead producers are counting on more auto production to call for more batteries.

Increasing demand for aluminum by several industries has led both the Aluminum Co. of America and Reynolds Metals to step up output.

JOHN'S MANVILLE PRODUCT

WHS News Briefs

By-Lines

By JOHN OTIS CORE
Mothers of this community: Have your children been disappearing mysteriously lately from breakfast to lunch and from lunch to dinner? Do you find that the household has become quieter lately? Chances are that the situation you are faced with means three things: fall is here; school has begun; and that stone building bordering on North, Paint and Temple Sts. has again become the center of activity for the teenager.

It was the center of activity, too, a certain Tuesday a few weeks ago when all of us filed into the auditorium to meet the faces of students and faculty as well as to see once again the familiar faces assembled.

The Superintendent of City Schools, W. A. Smith, introduced the new principal, J. B. Hardin, to the student body. Assignment of homerooms by grades was made by Mr. Hardin, interspersed with short, interesting, and pointed talks. We then moved to see what was ahead of us in our new school year.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS

The Student Council held its first meeting following the election of representatives in the various homerooms. Mr. Nestor, the advisor for the group, spoke to the Council about its responsibilities and duties during the past and in the future. He stressed the fact that no club is formed in the school without the consent of the student representatives and also told of other small duties of the council. He impressed upon the assemblage the importance of their place in the school as a bridge between the desires of the students and the actions of the faculty.

Elections were also held during this first meeting to fill all official positions except that of the already elected president, Mike Lawrence. The Council elected Buddy Lynch as vice president, Kay Rhoades as secretary, and Sharon Smith as treasurer.

A vote was also taken after short discussion on the matter of releasing the heretofore council-operated concession stand at the football field to the band. The vote was unanimously in favor of turning the stand over to the band for its fund raising.

A committee was set up to handle assembly programs and chapel in the school auditorium. The required - under - law - constitution school beautifying committee was also appointed. Jack Crabtree was put in charge of sponsors for daily devotions over the public address unit.

The second meeting of the Student Council was held on schedule the following week. The president urged representatives to push a "Penpal in Japan" project in the homerooms. This project was upon request of Japanese children.

Discussion was also held concerning a program of limiting the activities of high school students based either on a point system or on major and minor activities. Mr.

Nestor told the council that working out the program on its own initiative was many times as good as having to have the State Board of Education step in. A committee was set up to study the problem. This committee will work with the faculty committee of the same nature. Representatives were asked to solicit ideas from the homerooms.

WORK ON YEAR BOOK

The Sunburst Staff set to work quickly this year taking pictures of the various organizations for use in the school annual. During this time, the staff's photographer, Mr. Himmelsbach, was a familiar sight scampering through the halls. No doubt, freshmen were a little rushed in deciding on extracurricular activities with the PA, system constantly blaring our directions as to where to go to join this, or the other club.

The Sunburst Staff however did not seem to be too unhappy about the whole situation. With many of them getting out of a full day of classes to help organize the pictures, they had nothing to say but the ironic comment, "Mmmmm, bad!"

The individual pictures were also taken for the Sunburst with most of us listening to the same jokes the photographer has been telling since the first time we filed in to get our pictures taken. Fortunately, we are still laughing.

PEP CLUB

Mr. Baber, widely acclaimed as the school's most outstanding cynic (with Mr. Moore coming in a close second), has put great faith in the Pep Club this year. This club, started last year during this season, did not get in full swing until time for basketball. This year everyone in the school was encouraged to join, and there was a tremendous turnout. Members of the band and football team are automatically members and all others must have season tickets to the games. Pep assemblies have been reserved now entirely and only for those in the club.

At the first assembly of the Pep Club, Mr. Baber expressed a need for helpers. Officers were then chosen by no other method than cheering, and the result was that Jack Crabtree is presently head man on the totem pole with Max Miltstead in second place. Sheets of paper with cheering songs were passed among the members by the cheerleaders. Cheers were then led by Mr. Baber gesticulating madly for more noise.

Another feature of the club visible this fall to all loyal supporters of the team will be the battle cry. For reaction to the shout, "How 'bout that," all are supposed to yell vehemently, "Hey! Hey! Hey!" The popularity of this cry is dubious.

THE SEEING EYE

Contrary to rumor, that black Mercedes in front of the school does not mean Ron Coffman is forming a secret service to take care of his "subjects."

Did anybody hear about the fellow who sent his steady an orchid with the note: "With all my love - and most of my allowance."

Someone said that the cigarette smoking group at school have been making out willies. All have requested that they be buried in flip - top boxes.

This is "Be Nice to Marilyn Willis" Week. If she doesn't already, she'll love you for it.

BAND ACTIVITIES

The Washington High School Marching Band, much to the surprise of those who went out for the so - called "Social Band," has, without a doubt, been working this year. Since the beginning morning practices before school had started, Mr. Neumann has furnished the members with plenty of marching practice in the afternoons and evenings. It has also afforded the budding musicians opportunity for a nice little bit of exercise.

Furthermore, the fellowship at the practices has been exceedingly amiable and thus most pleasing. Concentration, nevertheless, is necessary if the band is to carry out its formations flawlessly. A fine example of this concentration has been the majorette section. The band has spotlighted them several times this year in its shows and the audience has watched some of their masterful skits. Randy Mann, the drum major, has been doing his usual fine job of leading the band onto the field with the two twirlers Paulette Pennington and Judy Lundberg. All of them are juniors.

Head Majorette Ann Johnson, holds an extra practice every week besides the time for practice with the rest of the band. She also is a junior with her band of majorettes composed of freshmen Nancy Marting, Joyce Bachelor, Oleta Hilliard, Juliana Wilson, Nancy Graves, and sophomore Marta Mieke. These girls all attended the special Smith - Walbridge majorette camp in Syracuse, Ind., this past summer. Many of their dance routines were learned here. The lustrous and flashing performances of their imaginative ideas will, no doubt, be enjoyable to all football fans this fall.

BAND BOOSTERS ACTIVE

With the band looking forward hopefully to a trip to Washington D. C., in the spring, the normal material mind pops up with the question, "Where do we get the money?" The Band Boosters Club is attempting to answer the question. One way this is being done is by concessions at the football games. Luckily, the Student Council having seen a need, the Band Boosters control that stand along with the one formerly operated by the Future Homemakers; thus making them in full control of refreshments. Nevertheless, with a tremendously large amount of their profits being paid out to the athletic fund, we must beg strong support of the football fans for this endeavor.

Another fund raising activity is the membership drive for the club. Only through support of the adults can the band's trip become a reality, and thus we ask that all those who possibly can join, will. At the Little Miami game membership cards were to be had upon first entering the gates and this will no doubt continue. Supplants will also call at homes to ask for advocates of this worthy cause.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

A situation arose after the second home game that was described by the more elderly members of the high school organizations as "Ridiculous." There was no sock hop. The realization that practically all the school clubs were desperately in need of money was what made the whole thing questionable. Discomfort was also suffered by those whose dates had been already arranged.

However, the three sock hops that we have had were most enjoyable to all. The first was sponsored by the Senior Class, the exalted sovereigns of the high school, and was well attended. The week before last the Hi-Y backed a Saturday night dance and the bleachers in turn backed people like yours truly who have remained the perpetual "wall-flowers." Nevertheless, the time was most enjoyably spent among friends.

A hop was held last Friday also in the short time between the end of the ball game and midnight. Its sponsor was the Pep Club. Teachers have been chaperones at all these dances.

Now eyes are turned toward the Homecoming Dance. Dates had been made well in advance for this dance this evening, and last week all were waiting anxiously the returns from the balloting for queen and attendants. Gail Detweiler, as all know, was chosen queen with attendants: Mary Brown, senior; Janice Brown, junior; Nancy Roberts, sophomore; and Linda Lucas, freshman. They will rule at the student council sponsored dance with their escorts. The pep assembly which followed announcement was a real gasser followed by a parade through town by the Pep Club. During the assembly, awards were made by Mr. Howard Miller, president of the football boosters, to the boys with the most tackles in the various games. Ron Carter received three awards, Chuck Hire received one, and Jack Crabtree received one.

Student Council committees have been working very hard on preparing the "smelly, old, school gym" for the dance. Transforming it into a throne room is no simple job. Removing the odor, adding decorations, refreshment preparations and other actions have been taken for beautification. Publicity also has been important, but the Council regretted that it could not send personal invitations to many alumni. Because of limitation of time, material, and the tremendous task involved, it was almost impossible. Nevertheless, the Council wished to stress the fact that all alumni will be welcomed most heartily at the game and at the dance, and all who can should certainly come.

Another factor about the homecoming pleasing to people like yours truly is the fact that physical education classes have been cut out for these last two days. This must be the airing out of the gym as well as trying to keep the decorations in one piece.

Members of the freshmen class, the group better known as the Swimming Pool Club or presently as the Risch's Society, were scattered with seniors and eighth-graders when they attended the Columbus local television broadcast "Gene's Canteen" last Saturday. This program has been around long enough to become well known among adults as well as 'kids in the area. Its premises have been invaded by a Washington C. H. group more than once before. It consists of simply dancing to the records played by M. C. Gene Fullen. The dancing is made up of the usual "Walk, walk, dip" of today's youth. (Incidentally, those critical people such as Mr. Townsend as "Sweeping up the floor with the girl.")

Sharon Schorr was the girl who volunteered to dance with the amusing (&) little assistant on the show. She was quoted as saying he was a good dancer.

COUNCIL MEETING

The Student Council meeting last Wednesday was conducted by Buddy Lynch, the vice president, in the absence of the president, Mike Lawrence. The secretary's report was read by Kay Rhoades concerning the last meeting and the various homecoming committees were called upon to give their reports. There was also discussion or sending invitations to alumni, but it was found to be an impossibility. Representatives were asked to solicit tickettakers for the dance from the homerooms and also to try to get donations of card tables. Mr. Nestor spoke briefly on emphasizing in the homerooms the fact that we representatives were simply their voice and that suggestions are indeed most welcome.

A list of the Student Council members was given out to be posted in the rooms. The council consists of the following students: Seniors: Jim Hidy, Jack Crabtree, Bob Leeth, Chuck Hire, and Kay Rhoades; juniors: Pete Perlick, Buddy Lynch, Bill Crooks, Sharon Smith, Jeanne Edgington; sophomores: Elizabeth Henry, David Nungesser, Roger Thornburg, and John Core; freshman: Juliana Wilson, Linda Lucas, and Dwight Brown. These students represent all the homerooms in the Senior High School. The Junior High School has its own Student Council which works entirely separately. Mr. Moore is advisor for this group.

The Sophomore Class officers have brilliantly come upon a way to rid themselves of those millions of projects sponsored every year by each junior class.

Class dues are being collected each six-weeks period at a quarter each time. In this way all participate in helping the class when with the system of sponsoring many activities only a few are the actual workers. These dues were believed to be quite reasonably by faculty advisors for the class, upon consideration of the many pulls upon the financial reservoir in our coming year.

This year's junior class has as one of their projects the selling of mums at tonight's homecoming game.

Lions at Full Strength For Home Coming Game

The WHS Lions at full strength will face a tough Zanesville Rosecrans eleven before what should be a sellout crowd of 2,500 at the Homecoming game at Gardner Park Friday night.

Coach Fred Domenico said Friday morning the Lions went through a spirited drill Thursday, with considerable running.

The report from ticket sales, Domenico said, indicates a full house Friday night if the weather cooperates.

Although the Lions lost their first game of the season last week to Newcomerstown, they outgained their opposition 173-95 yards and made 11 to nine first downs. Using the straight T formation they have four backs who can throw with equal ability and are good runners.

UP FRONT Rosecrans has a heavy line that can move fast. Line Coach Marvin Merritt who scouted the game last week was impressed with its speed. Five of the probable starters weigh over 190 pounds.

Domenico said there may be some changes in the WHS starting lineup.

Thursday night the squad went considerable time on punt and kickoff returns.

If the practice is any indication the Lions will be throwing more passes Friday than the two they tossed last week.

Domenico predicted "The game will be a close ball game with the team having to go 100 per cent to win." He holds the philosophy that each game is the toughest.

4 Unbeaten Ohio Grid Teams Await Weekend Battles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Benedictine vs Massillon, and Marion Harding vs Elyria are the only Ohio high school football games this weekend in which members of the top 10 clash in the battle of the unbeaten.

Defeat could send any of them into a lower slot in The Associated Press poll.

Benedictine's state champions, No. 6 in this week's rating, and Massillon, No. 2, both have three victories. The Tigers, however, tied Alliance, Marion Harding, No. 9, and Elyria, No. 5, each have four wins.

Other games in which top 10 teams will see action are Warren Harding, No. 1, vs East Liverpool; Cleveland Cathedral Latin, No. 3, vs Cleveland East; Alliance, No. 4, vs Youngstown Ursuline; Toledo Libbey, No. 7 vs Lima; Springfield, No. 8 vs Dayton Chaminade, and Troy, No. 10, vs Sidney.

Boyd, Beechem Set for Rematch

CHICAGO (AP)—Lanky Bobby Boyd of Chicago tonight goes against Jimmy Beechem, who knocked him out of the middleweight rankings with an upset victory last August in Miami.

The 10 round middleweight scrap will be broadcast and televised by NBC from Chicago Stadium starting at 9 p.m. (EST). Scoring will be based on the five point maximum system.

Beechem, 24-year-old self-styled psychology student who migrated from Philadelphia to Miami, climbed to the No. 6 contender spot in the National Boxing Assn. ratings mainly by his victory over Boyd.

Boyd has scored 26 knockouts in winning 49 bouts. Beechem has only 7 kayoes in 24 victories.

'Overconfidence' To Defeat Browns?

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy of the Chicago Cardinals—who had experience with overconfidence in collegiate football—is hoping to catch the Cleveland Browns in that mood.

"Overconfidence," Ivy said, "was one of our big problems at Oklahoma." He was a player and later assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma.

"The kids read so much about how good they were, they began to believe it," Ivy commented.

He hopes the Browns are impressed with the Browns' reputation.

"As a matter of fact, that's probably our best chance against the Browns—if they're too confident for this one," he added.

Seventh Grade Gridders Tie Mt. Sterling

After having been nudged out in their first two games, the Seventh Grade team came from behind to play the Mt. Sterling Seventh Graders to a 22-22 tie at Mt. Sterling Thursday after school.

When they went to Cedarville for their football opener, they faced a team which included older and bigger boys. They faced the same handicap at Hillsboro in their second game. They lost each game by only a single touchdown.

But at Mt. Sterling, the two teams were evenly matched in age and weight. Gene Sagar and Bill Carson, the volunteer coaches, had only praise for the Mt. Sterling team. They summed it up: "They were well coached and they liked to play football."

Mt. Sterling scored two quick touchdowns with extra points in the first period before the Washington C. H. boys could settle down.

Then in the second period, they evened the score with a touchdown from 20 yards out by Bill Martin and another by Ron Jones on a 9-yard smash through the line. Martin ran over for the extra 2 points after both TDs.

Each team scored a touchdown in the third period, but neither added the extra points. The Washington C. H. score was made by Jones on a 30-yard dash through tackle.

The coaches said the WHS offense was clicking better than in the two previous games, but that the defense was not so tough.

Most spectacular defensive plays were pass interceptions, one by John Wood in mid-field and the other by Bob Grim, which stopped a Mt. Sterling scoring threat.

Washington C. H. starting lineup was:

Ends — Grim and Lowell Rayburn; tackles — Don Isham and John Newton; guards — Steve Anders and Steve Oyer; center — Jack Campbell; backfield — Wood, qb, Martin, H; Jones, rb, and Dave Johns fb.

A HAPPY BOB TURLEY leaps for joy (left) and then is smothered in a "Berra-hug" by catcher Yogi Berra (right) while Andy Carey joins the jubilation after the come-from-far-behind Yanks overtook the Milwaukee Braves, 6-2, in the final game of the 1958 World Series. Turley held the Braves to two hits in a clutch relief role.

W-h-e-e-e Did It!

Yankees, Stengel Reigning As Baseball Champs Again

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The New York Yankees were back on the baseball throne today, possessors of the most brilliant triumph in their long World Series history.

Casey Stengel reigned supreme as the greatest manager in the game today and as one of the shrewdest manipulators of manpower the sport has ever known.

The perennial American League champions climaxed a courageous uphill battle Thursday when they defeated former nemesis Lew Burdette and the Milwaukee Braves 6-2. It was their 18th world title in the last 38 years, their eighth in the last 12.

But neither Stengel nor the front office was fooled. They knew this is not one of the better Yankee teams. It had too much of a battle on its hands before overcoming only a fair Milwaukee club in seven games. It had to surge back from a 3-1 deficit after looking like chumps in the first two games.

It had to receive super pitching to offset mediocre hitting. It had to get help from the opposition in the way of poor base running, faulty fielding, errant throwing and horrendous hitting in the clutch in order to win.

Stengel praised his athletes to the skies after their final victory, their third in succession and their fourth in the last five games. Only one other World Series club had ever made such a comeback.

But it is safe to assume Stengel has not forgotten the promise he made a week ago, after his play-crafters had lost 13-5 to the Braves.

"I'm going to make some changes on this club," he vowed then. "There are several men on this club who don't deserve to be on it. I promise you this. They won't be here next spring."

Even at the very height of his exhilaration, in the a complacency of his seventh series success in nine attempts, the 67-year-old wizard of the dugout let fly a parting shot.

"Maybe now some of the other clubs in our league will want some of my players again," he said. "If we had continued to play the way we did in the first four games, nobody would want our players. Now the telephone company will do some rushing business from the calls we'll get during the winter. And we'll be listening too."

It was pitching that won the pennant for New York. And it was pitching that won the series.

"The kids read so much about how good they were, they began to believe it," Ivy commented. He hopes the Browns are impressed with the Browns' reputation.

"As a matter of fact, that's probably our best chance against the Browns—if they're too confident for this one," he added.

Navigators use a log to measure distance or determine speed through water while the sextant is an instrument for measuring angles between the horizon and heavenly bodies in order to determine latitude and longitude on earth.

pitching that won the series. The team batting in the series was only .211 despite the 10 home runs, half of which came in losing games. Only Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald hit over .300.

The Yankees managed to comb Burdette and relief pitcher Don McMahon for eight hits Thursday, half of them coming in the decisive eighth inning when they scored four runs to snap a 2-2 deadlock. Elston Howard's tie-breaking single following Yogi Berra's two-out double, and Bill Skowron's three-run homer supplied the coup de grace. Up to then Burdette, pitching with only two days rest, had permitted but three hits.

The Yankees had managed to stay even with Milwaukee by the grace of a couple of wild throws by first baseman Frank Torre and failure of the Braves to come through in the clutch. They scored two unearned runs against Burdette without the aid of a hit in the second inning to take a 2-1 lead.

The Braves had two good shots at starter Don Larsen and winner Bob Turley and muffed both. Even the 46,367 Milwaukee die-hards sensed they had had it despite a game-tying home run by Del Crandall in the sixth.

It was the same Crandall who twice came up with the bases full and twice failed to come through. The Braves' catcher struck out in the first inning after his team had taken a 1-0 lead against Larsen and filled the bases on three walks. In the third, Turley replaced Larsen after singles by Bill Bruton and Henry Aaron. He retired Wes Covington on a run-scoring grounder, purposely walked Eddie Mathews to fill the bases, and disposed of Crandall on another grounder.

The Braves left eight runners stranded to increase their total to 57 for the seven games. The Yankees left only 40 on base. Milwaukee hit only three home runs with such sluggers as Mathews, Hank Aaron, Covington and Joe Adcock hitting nothing longer than a double.

Turley was superb Thursday, just as he was Monday when he shut out the Braves on five hits, and Wednesday when he came in to retire the last batter on three pitches and preserve Ryne Duren's 4-3 triumph. He gave up only two hits in the final 6-2-3 innings for his second victory in two days and was voted a new automobile as the series' outstanding player.

The series brought out several Braves' flaws. It showed them to be a slow-moving, mediocre fielding, ordinary hitting club. If it weren't for the magnificent work of their two great pitchers, Warren Spahn and Burdette, they probably would have not won more than one game. They scored 17 of their 25 runs in the first two games and were shut out twice in the last five.

Even Fred Haney, who did an expert job running his team, admitted his Braves did not deserve to win.

"Those fellows came from behind to beat us and deserved to win," he said. "Give credit where credit is due. They got the hits at the right time. We didn't."

"Spahn and Burdette pitched good enough to win but we didn't get them any runs. We lost because we scored only eight runs in the last five games. Had we hit when it counted, it would have been a different story."

Other than that, Haney refused to belittle his players.

Blockbusters Top Grid Card

Some Big Changes In Rating Possible

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you feel any earth tremors this weekend, it probably won't be Mother Nature. They're just loaded the weekend football schedule with blockbusters.

It could add up to some violent changes in next week's Associated Press rankings.

The fireworks begin tonight in Miami's Orange Bowl, where 11th-ranked Louisiana State visits Miami's Hurricanes. The Bengals are undefeated in three games. Miami, rated the top Southern independent, has a 1-1 record.

Saturday, Army makes only its second trip ever to Notre Dame to finish off the second of the current two-game series. The Cadets ranked No. 3, bring along their "bazooka" offense and "lonesome end" to match fourth-ranked Notre Dame's varied offense and staunch defense.

Down in the Southwest, another traditional battle—Oklahoma at Texas—will sell out the Cotton Bowl. The Sooners, No. 2, are favored to beat the 16th-ranked Longhorns, undefeated in three games.

Top-ranked Auburn tests its real defensive skill against explosive Kentucky in the Southeast Conference's top game.

Wisconsin (No. 6) plays host to Purdue (No. 13) in a Big Ten battle of unbeaten, and unscored-upon. Another Big Ten clash sends Ohio State (No. 5) to Illinois in the day's television game.

Another SEC game pits seventh-ranked Mississippi against Tulane, while Atlantic Coast Conference favorite Clemson (No. 8) meets member Vanderbilt.

Ninth-ranked Michigan State sends its multiple offense against a Pitt line that has stymied three opponents. The Panthers (No. 10) are a 10-point underdog.

Fifteenth-ranked Oregon, who lost a 6-0 squeaker to Oklahoma last week, meets Southern California in the West Coast's top game.

Miami Gridders Book Army Game for 1960

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Athletic Director John Brinkley announced today that Miami University has signed to play a football game with Army at West Point on Oct. 29, 1960. It will be the first meeting between the two schools. Army Coach Earl (Red) Blaik is a Miami graduate.

Lions at Full Strength For Home Coming Game

The WHS Lions at full strength will face a tough Zanesville Rosecrans eleven before what should be a sellout crowd of 2,500 at the Homecoming game at Gardner Park Friday night.

Coach Fred Domenico said Friday morning the Lions were

Seventh Grade Gridders Tie Mt. Sterling

After having been nudged out in their first two games, the Seventh Grade team came from behind to play the Mt. Sterling Seventh Graders to a 22-22 tie at Mt. Sterling Thursday after school.

When they went to Cedarville for their football opener, they faced a team which included older and bigger boys. They faced the same handicap at Hillsboro in their second game. They lost each game by only a single touchdown.

But at Mt. Sterling, the two teams were evenly matched in age and weight. Gene Sagar and Bill Carson, the volunteer coaches, had only praise for the Mt. Sterling team. They summed it up: "They were well coached and they liked to play football."

Mt. Sterling scored two quick touchdowns with extra points in the first period before the Washington C. H. boys could settle down.

Then in the second period, they evened the score with a touchdown from 20 yards out by Bill Marling and another by Ron Jones on a 9-yard smash through the line. Marling ran over for the extra 2 points after both TDs.

Each team scored a touchdown in the third period, but neither added the extra points. The Washington C. H. score was made by Jones on a 30-yard dash through tackle.

The coaches said the WHS offense was clicking better than in the two previous games, but that the defense was not so tough.

Most spectacular defensive plays were pass interceptions, one by John Wood in mid-field and the other by Bob Grimm, which stopped a Mt. Sterling scoring threat.

Washington C. H. starting lineup was:

PUBLIC TRAPSHOOT SUNDAY, OCT. 12th

STARTING AT 12 NOON
AT THE Fayette County

through a spirited drill Thursday, with considerable running.

The report from ticket sales, Domenico said, indicates a full house Friday night if the weather cooperates.

Although the Bishops lost their first game of the season last week to Newcomerstown, they outgained their opposition 173-95 yards and made 11 to nine first downs. Using the straight T formation they have four backs who can throw with equal ability and are good runners.

Domenico said there may be some changes in the WHS starting lineup.

Thursday night the squad went considerable time on punt and kickoff returns.

If the practice is any indication the Lions will be throwing more passes Friday than the two they tossed last week.

Domenico predicted "The game will be a close ball game with his team having to go 100 per cent to win." He holds the philosophy that each game is the toughest.

4 Unbeaten Ohio Grid Teams Await Weekend Battles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Benedictine vs Massillon, and Marion Harding vs Elyria are the only Ohio high school football games this weekend in which members of the top 10 clash in the battle of the unbeaten.

Defeat could send any of them into a lower slot in The Associated Press poll.

Benedictine's state champions, No. 6 in this week's rating, and Massillon, No. 2, both have three victories. The Tigers, however, tied Alliance. Marion Harding, No. 9, and Elyria, No. 5, each have four wins.

Other games in which top 10 teams will see action are Warren Harding, No. 1, vs East Liverpool; Cleveland Cathedral Latin, No. 3, vs Cleveland East; Alliance, No. 4, vs Youngstown Ursuline; Toledo Libbey, No. 7 vs Lima; Springfield, No. 8 vs Dayton Chamaine, and Troy, No. 10, vs Sidney.

Boyd, Beechem Set for Rematch

CHICAGO (AP) — Lanky Bobby Boyd of Chicago tonight goes against Jimmy Beechem, who knocked him out of the middleweight rankings with an upset victory last August in Miami.

The 10 round middleweight scrap will be broadcast and televised by NBC from Chicago Stadium starting at 9 p.m. (EST). Scoring will be based on the five point maximum system.

Beechem, 24-year-old self-styled psychology student who migrated from Philadelphia to Miami, climbed to the No. 6 contender spot in the National Boxing Assn. ratings mainly by his victory over Boyd.

Boyd has scored 26 knockouts in winning 49 bouts. Beechem has only 7 kayoes in 24 victories.

'Overconfidence' To Defeat Browns?

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy of the Chicago Cardinals — who had experience with overconfidence in collegiate football—is hoping to catch the Cleveland Browns in that mood.

"Overconfidence," Ivy said, "was one of our big problems at Oklahoma." He was a player and later assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma.

"The kids read so much about how good they were, they began to believe it," Ivy commented. He hopes the Browns are impressed with the Browns' reputation.

"As a matter of fact, that's probably our best chance against the Browns—if they're too confident for this one," he added.

W-h-e-e-e Did It!

A HAPPY BOB TURLEY leaps for joy (left) and then is smothered in a "Berra-hug" by catcher Yogi Berra (right) while Andy Carey joins the jubilation after the come-from-far-behind Yankees overtook the Milwaukee Braves, 6-2, in the final game of the 1958 World Series. Turley held the Braves to two hits in a clutch relief role.

Yankees, Stengel Reigning As Baseball Champs Again

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The New York Yankees were back on the baseball throne today, possessors of the most brilliant triumph in their long World Series history.

Casey Stengel reigned supreme as the greatest manager in the game today and as one of the shrewdest manipulators of manpower the sport has ever known.

The perennial American League champions climaxed a courageous uphill battle Thursday when they defeated former nemesis Lew Burdette and the Milwaukee Braves 6-2. It was their 18th world title in the last 38 years, their eighth in the last 12.

But neither Stengel nor the front office was fooled. They know this is not one of the better Yankee teams. It had too much of a battle on its hands before overcoming only a fair Milwaukee club in seven games. It had to surge back from a 3-1 deficit after looking like chumps in the first two games.

It had to receive super pitching to offset mediocre hitting. It had to get help from the opposition in the way of poor base running, faulty fielding, errant throwing and horrendous hitting in the clutch in order to win.

Stengel praised his athletes to the skies after their final victory, their third in succession and their fourth in the last five games. Only one other World Series club had ever made such a comeback.

But it is safe to assume Stengel has not forgotten the promise he made a week ago, after his players had lost 13-5 to the Braves. "I'm going to make some changes on this club," he vowed then. "There are several men on this club who don't deserve to be on it. I promise you this. They won't be here next spring."

Even at the very height of his exhilaration, in the accomplishment of his seventh series success in nine attempts, the 67-year-old wizard of the dugout let fly a parting shot.

"Maybe now some of the other clubs in our league will want some of my players again," he said. "If we had continued to play like we did in the first four games, nobody would want our players. Now the telephone company will do some rushing business from the calls we'll get during the winter. And we'll be listening too."

It was pitching that won the pennant for New York. And it was pitching that won the series. The team batting in the series was only .211 despite the 10 home runs, half of which came in losing games. Only Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald hit over .300.

The Yankees managed to comb Burdette and relief pitcher Don McMahon for eight hits Thursday, half of them coming in the decisive eighth inning when they scored four runs to snap a 2-all deadlock. Elston Howard's tie-breaking single following Yogi Berra's two-out double, and Bill Skowron's three-run homer supplied the coup de grace. Up to then Burdette, pitching with only two days rest, had permitted but three hits.

The Yankees had managed to stay even with Milwaukee by the grace of a couple of wild throws by first baseman Frank Torre and failure of the Braves to come through in the clutch. They scored two unearned runs against Burdette without the aid of a hit in the second inning to take a 2-1 lead.

The Braves had two good shots at starter Don Larsen and winner Bob Turley and muffed both. Even the 46,367 Milwaukee diehards sensed they had had it despite a game-tying home run by Del Crandall in the sixth.

It was the same Crandall who twice came up with the bases full and twice failed to come through. The Braves' catcher struck out in the first inning after his team had taken a 1-0 lead against Larsen and filled the bases on three walks. In the third, Turley replaced Larsen after singles by Bill Bruton and Henry Aaron. He retired Wes Covington on a run-scoring grounder, purposely walked Eddie Mathews to fill the bases, and disposed of Crandall on another grounder.

The Braves left eight runners stranded to increase their total to 57 for the seven games. The Yankees left only 40 on base. Milwaukee hit only three home runs with such sluggers as Mathews, Hank Aaron, Covington and Joe Adcock hitting nothing longer than a double.

Lutherans Ask Exemption for Theologians

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A high official of the Lutheran church today urged continuation of the government's policy of exempting theological students from military service.

Most theological students, said the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, accept the draft exemption "honestly and sincerely, without intent of evading the normal military obligations of citizenship."

But unfortunately, he told the 21st biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America, studies indicate that "a small minority of men have permitted the exemption provision to be a factor in their decision to enter upon the course of training for the ministry."

Dr. Fry, president of the ULCA, read from a report compiled from a special commission appointed to study the relationship between ministerial students and the military.

The commission stressed that military service by pastors and theological students "is not inconsistent with evangelical doctrine." But Dr. Fry said each student should be free to waive or accept the government's exemption according to the dictates of his own conscience.

In another report before the convention today, the ULCA's board of local missions said the church's two-year $1,322,000 evangelism mission "gave God's activity an intensity that was unprecedented in the 40-year history of the church."

About 700 delegates representing the ULCA's 32 synods are attending the eight-day convention.

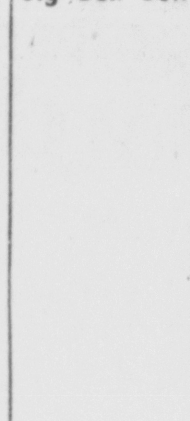

147-Foot Fall Survived By Ohio Workman, 27

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Joe Jackson, 27, of Ravenna, Ohio, fell 147 feet from a smokestack under construction and didn't break a bone. His fall Thursday was broken by a wooden platform 12 feet from the bottom of the stack. He was listed in satisfactory condition at a local hospital.

Lutherans Ask Exemption for Theologians

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A high official of the Lutheran church today urged continuation of the government's policy of exempting theological students from military service.

Most theological students, said the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, accept the draft exemption "honestly and sincerely, without intent of evading the normal military obligations of citizenship."

But unfortunately, he told the 21st biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America, studies indicate that "a small minority of men have permitted the exemption provision to be a factor in their decision to enter upon the course of training for the ministry."

Dr. Fry, president of the ULCA, read from a report compiled from a special commission appointed to study the relationship between ministerial students and the military.

The commission stressed that military service by pastors and theological students "is not inconsistent with evangelical doctrine." But Dr. Fry said each student should be free to waive or accept the government's exemption according to the dictates of his own conscience.

In another report before the convention today, the ULCA's board of local missions said the church's two-year $1,322,000 evangelism mission "gave God's activity an intensity that was unprecedented in the 40-year history of the church."

About 700 delegates representing the ULCA's 32 synods are attending the eight-day convention.

147-Foot Fall Survived By Ohio Workman, 27

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Joe Jackson, 27, of Ravenna, Ohio, fell 147 feet from a smokestack under construction and didn't break a bone. His fall Thursday was broken by a wooden platform 12 feet from the bottom of the stack. He was listed in satisfactory condition at a local hospital.

Bricker 'Inaction' Hit by Opponent

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Senate candidate Stephen M. Young told a Democratic rally here Thursday night that the Republicans and specifically his opponent, GOP Sen. John W. Bricker, have done nothing to stop the rising living costs.

"This is not surprising," Young said, "for the interests Bricker represents are more concerned with profits than government, more concerned with protecting big business than in protecting the average man."

Young said the failure of leadership by the Republican administration "is directly responsible for jeopardizing our basic economic security."

Cincinnati U Planning New Space Study

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati has announced plans to set up a new institute on space problems. Mathematician-astronomer, Dr. Paul Herget, will head the project.

The university, in announcing the move Thursday, said it will be called the Institute on Space Science. Its main purpose will be to give advanced training and do research work.

Dr. Herget, director of the UC Observatory, has been in charge of the Navy Vanguard computing center at Washington.

The university said Dr. Herget has gained the interest of the National Research Foundation and Navy research officials in the project.

The Navy has already allocated $54,000 for work on satellite problems at the school, which next September will offer a three-year program leading to a doctorate in dynamical astronomy.

Dr. Herget said, "The need for the institute ... arises from the lack of persons trained to deal with orbit problems and concrete solutions based on actual observation."

"The entire vanguard project does not have a single full time person on the staff who is competent in this subject. There was no one to be found who could be employed."

PUCO Dismisses Gas Rate Hike at Newark

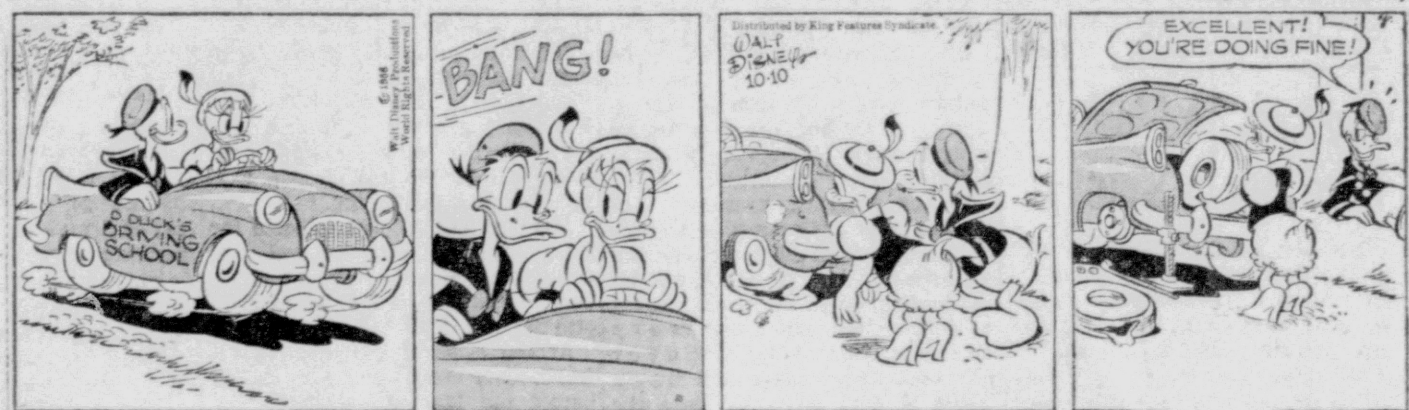

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission went through the formality of dismissing a $31,000 rate increase requested by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of its Newark customers. The commission acted Thursday after being notified that the company and Newark City Council had negotiated a settlement at a lower figure.

Traffic Safety Group Organized for County

Lincoln L. Schwartz was named the first president of the Fayette County Traffic Safety Chapter at the organization meeting in Washington C. H. High School auditorium Thursday evening.

Other officers elected were Gene Sagar, vice president; Mrs. Harold Slagle, secretary; and David Six, treasurer.

Schwartz said after the meeting he will name the seven committee heads in the near future.

Membership in the new safety group is open to anyone. To make the group a success and decrease accidents in Fayette the group will need the backing of the public 100 per cent, Schwartz said.

A constitution drafted by a committee headed by Robert Tice was accepted by the estimated 75 at the meeting. William Stoughton, temporary chairman, presided until Schwartz was elected president.

JOSEPH WOLFE, executive assistant to the director of Highway Safety and the principal speaker, said "safety is a frame of mind, not the condition of the car or traffic signs." Ohio has reduced the percentage of traffic accidents in recent years because citizens organized to educate the public about safety, he declared.

Wolfe said a need for a traffic safety committee exists in Fayette County pointing out that four persons were killed on the highways here during the first six months of 1958 and 98 were injured. On Ohio highways last year 2,044 were killed in traffic accidents.

If active leaders push the new organization, Wolfe said, there should be a reduction in the number of accidents in the future in Fayette County. Wolfe had appeared here for four or five times speaking before the driver's education classes taught by Arthur D. Engle of Washington C. H. High School.

C. H. BAKER, field representative for the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee for this 10-county district, said the best way to reduce accidents is through the education of the public and to reduce danger zones through action of a traffic safety committee.

Walter Morrow, president of the Chamber of Commerce, extended a welcome to the audience from his group that originally sponsored the setting up of the traffic safety committee. Stoughton, temporary chairman, pointed out that over one - million persons had been killed in auto accidents since the auto was invented in the 19th century.

This group was formed to promote safety education and work with law enforcement agencies, he said.

Quakers To Meet Here Again Sunday

Members of the Friends Church — the Quakers — in this community will hold a second get-together next Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Rose, 729 Washington Avenue.

The first meeting about a month ago was held at the Washington Lumber Co. Mrs. Byron Hinton, one of the leaders in the group seeking to bring Quakers here together, estimated at that time that there are more than 50 members of the church in and near Washington C. H. Thirty were at that first meeting; more are expected at the second.

The meeting Sunday at the Rose home will start with a covered dish dinner at 1 o'clock.

After dinner, reports on the American Friends Service Committee's activities will be made and the Rev. James Scherer of Highland, co - chairman of evangelism of the Wilmington district Friends Yearly Meeting, will talk with the group informally and bring the Friends here up to date on the affairs of their church.

The Quakers here have not formed any organization, Mrs. Rose said and explained that these meetings are merely to bring members of the church together so they can get better acquainted.

Several have said, however, that the establishment of a Friends Church here is a possibility for the future.

Sabina Patrolman Situation Remains At 'Status Quo'

SABINA — Mayor H. W. Hill said Friday there is "nothing new" on the status of Patrolman Leonard Cox who tendered a verbal resignation Monday night.

Cox visited City Hall Tuesday to draw his pay in full to that date and has not been seen by Mayor Hill since. Cox did not report for duty Wednesday night which would have been his regular night to work. Hill said no further action has been taken by city officials.

Meanwhile the other three members of the police force have been working the full schedule, Hill said. Any official action on the part of the Village Council will probably wait until the next meeting Oct. 20.

A group who made the accusations of improper conduct against Officer Cox Monday night have filed no official complaint with the mayor or Council, Hill said.

Schoolmen To Attend Meeting in Columbus

Washington C. H. High School Principal John Hardin and City School Superintendent W. A. Smith will attend a meeting of the Central Ohio Schoolmasters' Club in the Virginia Hotel, Columbus, at noon Saturday.

Hardin said the luncheon meetings are held by the group four times during the year. This meeting will feature a panel discussion of legislation to be presented at the next session of the Ohio General Assembly. The next meeting of the group will be held Dec. 6.

New Holland Orders Weekly Test of Siren

NEW HOLLAND — Every Saturday at noon the New Holland fire siren will be sounded as an operational test.

Civil Defense Plan Explained To Grangers

The Civil Defense program for Fayette County as a part of the southwestern Ohio area "survival project" was explained by Mrs. Eldon Bethards and Miss Louise Ritter at Thursday night's meeting of the Pomona Grange in the Farm Bureau auditorium. They also distributed booklets on "The First Fourteen Days."

Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside, county home economic chairman, introduced the winners in the baking contest: Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, first; Mrs. Eugene Thompson, second; Mrs. Bertrand Edwards, third; and Janice Smith, juvenile winner.

Mrs. Madge Winter, Pomona lecturer introduced Mrs. John Gotherman, the Highland County Pomona lecturer, who was in charge of the program for the evening.

The program included: Mabel Edward pianist and the Melody Four singing the "Aba Daba Honey-moon," "Sugar Time," and "Darkness of the Delta." "George McNary a reading, "The Serenade," Dean Cornelius, trombone solo, "The Thunderer," Ruth Ann Truener, readings, "Interlude" and "The Letter," Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamilton, reading, "Lover's Error," Emil Tissot, reading "A Pretty Good World," Janice Coffey, reading "Laughing."

Monday, Oct. 27 was selected for installation of Pomona and all subordinate Grange officers. The ceremonies will be 8 p. m. at Fayette Grange Hall.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by members of the Marshall Grange.

Scholarship Plan Talked by Boosters

The possibility of creating a $100 scholarship for a deserving Washington C. H. student was discussed at the regular meeting of the Boosters Club, this week.

The scholarship plan will be discussed further at the next club meeting. Mac Dews Jr. outlined the progress of the Pony Football leagues sponsored by the club. Currently 110 boys from the fifth and sixth grades are participating. Dews predicted that in the future several of the players will be outstanding members of the WHS Lions squad.

The club voted to make up a $55 deficit incurred by the football team during their pre-school lunches. The club voted to go on record, as supporting the school operational levy.

All boosters were asked by President Howard Miller to line up from the gate to the goalposts Friday night to cheer the team onto the field before the game.

Homecoming Dance Scheduled Tonight

A homecoming dance will be held in the Washington High School gymnasium from 10:30 p. m. until 12:30 a. m. Friday sponsored by the Student Council, according to Mike Lawrence, president.

The theme of the dance, open to students and alumni, will be "Autumn Twilight Time." Lawrence said, Edwin Nestor, faculty advisor to the Student Council, is working with the student committees. Miss Anne Stinson, girl's physical education teacher, is directing the decorations.

Student committee chairmen are Jeanne Edgington, Jack Wilson, Juliana Wilson, Kay Rhoads, Pete Piersick, Jim Hidy, Chuck Hire and Lawrence.

Top Golfers Receive Country Club Trophies

GOLF CHAMPIONS AWARDED TROPHIES.—William Himmelsbach (right) is congratulated by Tony Capuana, the club pro, after he was presented the men's golf championship trophy at a dinner at the Country Club Thursday night. Mrs. Willard McLean (center) was presented two trophies—one for the championship of the women's open tourney and the other for the championship of the women's handicap tournament. Howard Mann won the men's handicap tournament.

Trophies were presented to the golf champions of the Washington Country Club Thursday night by Ed Vollette, master of ceremonies and chairman of the club's tournament committee.

To William Himmelsbach, a precision golfer, was a precision trophy, and to Mrs. Willard McLean the trophy for the women's championship.

Mrs. McLean also was awarded the trophy for the women's handicap tournament championship. Her second of the year.

The men's handicap championship trophy went to Howard Mann.

THE PRESENTATIONS were made following the second annual family-type buffet supper. Until last year, the trophies were awarded, usually by Frank S. Jackson, club president, at one of the winter men's night suppers. But, with the increase of women golfers and the creation of tournaments for them, the committee changed the plan to the family dinner.

Both Himmelsbach and Mrs. McLean won their championships without benefit of handicaps. They had to turn back challenges from the best golfers in the club to take their titles.

Two tournaments are held each year. One is played with handicaps and the other without. Fields are divided into flights for both tournaments, with golfers of comparable ability in each flight. Flight winners and runners-up in the first flights also received trophies.

TROPHIES this year were statutes of golfers on a wood base. Each was engraved with the winner's name and achievement. Only two of the winners were missing from the presentation dinner — Robert Frizzell, runner-up in the first flight of the handicap tourney and John Rhoads, winner of the fifth flight of the open tourney.

In addition to the championship trophies presented to Himmelsbach and Mrs. McLean, these were awarded: In the open tourney — Dan O'Brien, runner-up; Roger McLean, first flight winner and Jim Grinstead, runner-up; Dr. O. W. House, second flight winner; Marion A. Rife, third flight winner; Bart Mahoney, fourth flight winner and John Rhoads, fifth flight.

In the handicap tourney — Jim Hanawalt, first flight winner and Robert Frizzell, runner-up; Stanley Hagerty, second flight winner and Dr. I. L. Pumphrey, third flight winner.

In the open tourney for the women — Mrs. Wayne Shobe, runner-up; Mrs. Max Lawrence, first flight winner and Mrs. Paul Pennington runner-up.

In the handicap tourney — Mrs. Neil Helrich, runner-up; Mrs. Robert Link, first flight winner and Mrs. Pennington, runner-up.

BETWEEN 90 AND 100 were at the dinner which was planned by Wayne Shobe, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vollette, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Willard McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Capuana.

Capuana, the club pro, showed an hour-long movie of a golf match between Paul Harney and Bill

Truman Sees Corn Price Drop Ahead

CHEROKEE, Iowa (AP)—Former President Harry Truman predicted here Thursday night that farm prices under the Eisenhower administration will drop after the Nov. 4 election. He advised Iowa farmers to sell their crops before that time.

The 74-year-old former chief executive, here to aid the campaign of the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 8th Iowa District, was greeted by more than 3,000 persons in the high school auditorium.

Truman said the Republicans "might try to buy the election" in the current farm situation. He added they "did it two years ago with their oil bank payments."

"They appear to be doing it now with their high prices for non-compliance corn," Truman said.

Casper Jr., in California. Casper won the match with a 10 under par 62.

Good Hope Carnival Plans Set by PTO

Plans for a Halloween Carnival, which will be held Oct. 24 at the Good Hope High School, are already underway in the committees chosen for the job at the last Parent-Teacher Organization meeting.

Mrs. Eugene Thompson, Mrs. William McFadden, Mrs. Kenneth Foster, Mrs. Marilyn Taylor, Mrs. Dale Thompson, Mrs. Eddie Sallars, Mrs. Ralph Garrison and Mrs. Joe Bryan will be in charge of the snack bar. Plans for judging the costumes at the affair are being made by Mrs. Paul Pope and Mrs. Thurl Campbell. They also will take care of the prize arrangements.

During PTO meeting, it was decided to give $5 to the Community Chest. Mrs. George Conaway, president, said some of last year's notebooks may now be purchased.

After the business session, the program for the evening, in charge of Mrs. Mac Smith, was opened with a piano solo by Gaye Harper. Harold Thomas, former principal, showed pictures of last year's senior trip and the junior-senior prom.

Committees for the next meeting are: program - Mrs. Howard Newman, Mrs. Howard Barney and Mrs. Lee Alan Rowe; refreshments - Mrs. Charles Goldsberry, Mrs. Jack Redden, Mrs. Carl Rhoades and Mrs. Ralph Jones.

County Jail Gets New Coat of Paint

The county jail is being redecorated by Lowell McCoy, 319 N. Hinde St., who is applying a new coat of aluminum paint.

Two prisoners were moved to the city jail Thursday afternoon when the painting began. The work should be completed by Saturday. The October grand jury had recommended that the jail be painted.

Traffic Safety Group Organized for County

Lincoln L. Schwartz was named the first president of the Fayette County Traffic Safety Chapter at the organization meeting in Washington C. H. High School auditorium Thursday evening.

Other officers elected were Gene Sagar, vice president; Mrs. Harold Slagle, secretary; and David Six, treasurer.

Schwartz said after the meeting he will name the seven committee heads in the near future.

Membership in the new safety group is open to anyone. To make the group a success and decrease accidents in Fayette the group will need the backing of the public 100 per cent, Schwartz said.

A constitution drafted by a committee headed by Robert Tice was accepted by the estimated 75 at the meeting. William Stoughton, temporary chairman, presided until Schwartz was elected president.

Quakers To Meet Here Again Sunday

Members of the Friends Church — the Quakers — in this community will hold a second get-together next Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Rose, 729 Washington Avenue.

The first meeting about a month ago was held at the Washington Lumber Co. Mrs. Byron Hinton, one of the leaders in the group seeking to bring Quakers here together, estimated at that time that there are more than 50 members of the church in and near Washington C. H. Thirty were at that first meeting; more are expected at the second.

The meeting Sunday at the Rose home will start with a covered dish dinner at 1 o'clock.

After dinner, reports on the American Friends Service Committee's activities will be made and the Rev. James Scherer of Highland, co-chairman of evangelism of the Wilmington district Friends Yearly Meeting, will talk with the group informally and bring the Friends here up to date on the affairs of their church.

The Quakers here have not formed any organization, Mrs. Rose said and explained that these meetings are merely to bring members of the church together so they can get better acquainted.

Several have said, however, that the establishment of a Friends Church here is a possibility for the future.

Sabina Patrolman Situation Remains At 'Status Quo'

SABINA — Mayor H. W. Hill said Friday there is "nothing new" on the status of Patrolman Leonard Cox who tendered a verbal resignation Monday night.

Cox visited City Hall Tuesday to draw his pay in full to that date and has not been seen by Mayor Hill since. Cox did not report for duty Wednesday night which would have been his regular night to work. Hill said no further action has been taken by city officials.

Meanwhile the other three members of the police force have been working the full schedule, Hill said. Any official action on the part of the Village Council will probably wait until the next meeting Oct. 20.

A group who made the accusations of improper conduct against Officer Cox Monday night have filed no official complaint with the mayor or Council, Hill said.

Schoolmen To Attend Meeting in Columbus

Washington C. H. High School Principal John Hardin and City School Superintendent W. A. Smith will attend a meeting of the Central Ohio Schoolmasters' Club in the Virginia Hotel, Columbus, at noon Saturday.

Hardin said the luncheon meetings are held by the group four times during the year. This meeting will feature a panel discussion of legislation to be presented at the next session of the Ohio General Assembly. The next meeting of the group will be held Dec. 6.

New Holland Orders Weekly Test of Siren

NEW HOLLAND — Every Saturday at noon the New Holland fire siren will be sounded as an operational test.

The Village Council has requested that the siren be checked weekly to see that it is in good working order.

Civil Defense Plan Explained To Grangers

The Civil Defense program for Fayette County as a part of the southwestern Ohio area "survival project" was explained by Mrs. Eldon Bethards and Miss Louise Ritter at Thursday night's meeting of the Pomona Grange in the Farm Bureau auditorium. They also distributed booklets on "The First Fourteen Days."

Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside, county home economic's chairman, introduced the winners in the baking contest: Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, first; Mrs. Eugene Thompson, second; Mrs. Bertrand Edwards, third; and Janie Smith, juvenile winner.

Mrs. Madge Winter, Pomona lecturer introduced Mrs. John Gotherman, the Highland County Pomona lecturer, who was in charge of the program for the evening.

The program included: Mabel Ed-ward pianist and the Melody Four singing the "Aba Daba Honey-moon," "Sugar Time," and "Darkness of the Delta." "George McNary a reading, "The Seren a de," Dean Cornelius, trombone solo, "The Thunderer," Ruth Ann Truener, readings, "Interlude" and "The Letter," Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamilton, reading, "Lover's Error," Emil Tissot, reading "A Pretty Good World," Janice Coffey, reading "Laughing."

Monday, Oct. 27 was selected for installation of Pomona and all subordinate Grange officers. The ceremonies will be 8 p. m. at Fayette Grange Hall.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by members of the Marshall Grange.

Scholarship Plan Talked by Boosters

The possibility of creating a $100 scholarship for a deserving Washington C. H. student was discussed at the regular meeting of the Boosters Club, this week.

The scholarship plan will be discussed further at the next club meeting. Mac Dews Jr. outlined the progress of the Pony Football leagues sponsored by the club. Currently 110 boys from the fifth and sixth grades are participating.

Dews predicted that in the future several of the players will be outstanding members of the WHS Lions squad.

The club voted to make up a $55 deficit incurred by the football team during their pre-school lunches. The club voted to go on record, as supporting the school operational levy.

All boosters were asked by President Howard Miller to line up from the gate to the goalposts Friday night to cheer the team onto the field before the game.

Homecoming Dance Scheduled Tonight

A homecoming dance will be held in the Washington High School gymnasium from 10:30 p. m. until 12:30 a. m. Friday sponsored by the Student Council, according to Mike Lawrence, president.

The theme of the dance, open to students and alumni, will be "Autumn Twilight Time." Lawrence said. Edwin Nestor, faculty advisor to the Student Council, is working with the student committees. Miss Anne Stinson, girl's physical education teacher, is directing the decorations.

Student committee chairmen are Jeanne Edgington, Jack Wilson, Juliana Wilson, Kay Rhoads, Pete Pfersick, Jim Hidy, Chuck Hire and Lawrence.

Reports Window Broken

Earl Peters, an employee of the Farmer's Exchange, 920 N. North St., told police Friday morning that a window in an alley door was broken during the night. He said he thought entrance apparently was gained to the building, nothing was missing.

Top Golfers Receive Country Club Trophies

GOLF CHAMPIONS AWARDED TROPHIES—William Himmelspach (right) is congratulated by Tony Capuana, the club pro, after he was presented the men's golf championship trophy at a dinner at the Country Club Thursday night. Mrs. Willard McLean (center) was presented two trophies—one for the championship of the women's open tourney and the other for the championship of the women's handicap tournament. Howard Mann won the men's handicap tournament.

Trophies were presented to the golf champions of the Washington Country club Thursday night by Ed Vollette, master of ceremonies and chairman of the club's tournament committee.

To William Himmelspach, a precision golfer, went the men's championship trophy, and to Mrs. Willard McLean the trophy for the women's championship.

Mrs. McLean also was awarded the trophy for the women's handicap tournament championship slip, her second of the year.

The men's handicap championship trophy went to Howard Mann.

THE PRESENTATIONS were made following the second annual family-type buffet supper. Until last year, the trophies were awarded, usually by Frank S. Jackson, club president, at one of the winter men's night suppers. But, with the increase of women golfers and the creation of tournaments for them, the committee changed the plan to the family dinner.

Both Himmelspach and Mrs. McLean won their championships without benefit of handicaps. They had to turn back challenges from the best golfers in the club to take their titles.

Two tournaments are held each year. One is played with handicaps and the other without. Fields are divided into flights for both tournaments, with golfers of comparable ability in each flight. Flight winners and runners-up in the first flights also received trophies.

TROPHIES this year were statuettes of golfers on a wood base.

Truman Sees Corn Price Drop Ahead

CHEROKEE, Iowa (AP)—Former President Harry Truman predicted here Thursday night that farm prices under the Eisenhower administration will drop after the Nov. 4 election. He advised Iowa farmers to sell their crops before that time.

The 74-year-old former chief executive, here to aid the campaign of the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 8th Iowa District, was greeted by more than 3,000 persons in the high school auditorium.

Truman said the Republicans "might try to buy the election" in the current farm situation. He added they "did it two years ago with their soil bank payments."

"They appear to be doing it now with their high prices for non-compliance corn," Truman said.

Good Hope Carnival Plans Set by PTO

Plans for a Halloween Carnival, which will be held Oct. 24 at the Good Hope High School, are already underway in the committees chosen for the job at the last Parent-Teacher Organization meeting.

Mrs. Eugene Thompson, Mrs. William McFadden, Mrs. Kenneth Foster, Mrs. Marilyn Taylor, Mrs. Dale Thompson, Mrs. Eddie Salars, Mrs. Ralph Garrison and Mrs. Joe Bryan will be in charge of the snack bar. Plans for judging the costumes at the affair are being made by Mrs. Paul Pope and Mrs. Thurl Campbell. They also will take care of the prize arrangements.

During PTO meeting, it was decided to give $5 to the Community Chest. Mrs. George Conaway, president, said some of last year's notebooks may now be purchased.

After the business session, the program for the evening, in charge of Mrs. Mac Smith, was opened with a piano solo by Gaye Harper. Harold Thomas, former principal, showed pictures of last year's senior trip and the junior-senior prom.

Committees for the next meeting are: program — Mrs. Howard Newman, Mrs. Howard Barney and Mrs. Lee Alan Rowe; refreshments — Mrs. Charles Goldsberry, Mrs. Jack Redden, Mrs. Carl Rhoades and Mrs. Ralph Jones.

County Jail Gets New Coat of Paint

The county jail is being redecorated by Lowell McCoy, 319 N. Hinde St., who is applying a new coat of aluminum paint.

Two prisoners were moved to the city jail Thursday afternoon when the painting began. The work should be completed by Saturday. The October grand jury had recommended that the jail be painted.
